GOSHEN COLLEGE ACCREDITMENT PLAN

Alumni Division

For many years faculty, students, and alumni of Goshen College have looked longingly into the future to see the College a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. But always between the College and that cherished goal lay the insurmountable barrier—a five hundred thousand dollar endowment fund. Twice in its history the College launched a campaign to raise this amount. Each time one result of the campaign was to demonstrate the impossibility of attaining accreditment in the North Central Association by this route.

During the past several years loss of endowment income by even the largest universities has led to a rethinking of the whole problem of income and of support for the educational program of the private school. Colleges are now admitted into the N. C. A. not merely on the size of their endowment fund but on the basis of actual income for educational purposes. Some very small colleges with practically no endowment are members of the N. C. A. Calvin College, an excellent little denominational college supported by the Dutch Reformed Church, was admitted into the N. C. A. because the members of that denomination pledged a certain amount to be given annually. The money was raised by a per capita tax and Calvin College maintains its membership in the N. C. A. by means of these annual contributions. Hence mere lack of endowment no longer excludes a college from membership.

This new basis for admission into the N. C. A. has led to the development of a new plan for securing association membership for Goshen College. During the summer and fall of 1934 while the 1935 Directory of Goshen College Alumni was in preparation, Dr. M. C. Lehman was impressed by the growing number of members in the Alumni Association. He constantly insisted that so large a body should be doing something substantial for their Alma Mater. The matter has been on his mind ever since and during recent months he has been agitating a more active program of alumni support for the college program. In part, at least, the new program is a result of his thought and vision. The new plan, now known as the Goshen College Accreditment Plan, has for its goal the pledging of a large number of annual subscriptions to raise the quality of instruction and service at Goshen College to the point where all requirements for admission into the N. C. A. are automatically met.

In November Dean H. S. Bender drew up a plan looking toward closer coordination of the financial program of the College and the Alumni Association. After discussing the plan with the editor of the ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER, Dean Bender submitted it to the Administrative Committee of the College. The President of the College then asked the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association to meet with the Administrative Committee. This informal meeting agreed on a plan of organization and on a director for the alumni campaign. The plan was unanimously adopted and all previous action by the Executive Committee ratified, by the Board of Directors at the special meeting held on November 28 and reported elsewhere in this issue.

The Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan is a special division of the larger program conducted by Business Manager C. L. Graber and his associates. The director of the Alumni Division is appointed jointly by the Administrative Committee of Goshen College and by the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association. The members of the Administrative Committee of the College are: O. O. Miller, chairman; Sanford C. Yoder, president of the College; Dr. Harold S. Bender, dean of the College; and Business Manager, C. L. Graber. The Executive Committee of the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association are: Dr. M. C. Lehman, president; Willard H. Smith, vice president; Dr. Silas Hertzler, secretary; Clifford P. Martin, treasurer; and Professor Walter E. Yoder. The director of the Alumni Division is responsible to both bodies but his work and program are under the supervision and direction of Business Manager C. L. Graber, who receives all funds raised and places them to the credit of the College.

The first official act of the director of the Alumni Division was the appointment of Regional Directors in every area where any considerable number of Goshen College alumni are located. About sixty-five Regional Directors have been appointed and, with very few exceptions, have accepted the duties and responsibilities of the office. Every Regional Director will visit in person, or delegate some one in his district to visit in person, every alumnus on a list furnished him by the Director of the Alumni Division. Several Regional Directors have already done some work and encouraging reports of the universal interest of alumni in the plan and its objectives, are reaching the alumni office.

In arranging details for inaugurating the Alumni Division several important changes have seemed advisable. Heretofore the alumni office made an appeal for the payment of dues in June, and in November sent out a second appeal to alumni for donations to the Current Expense Fund of Goshen College. By action of the Board of Directors at the special meeting called for November 28 these two separate appeals will now be merged. Any amount donated or paid by alumni will hereafter be receipted as a gift to the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan.

Another change that the increasing size of the Alumni Association membership and the larger ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER are making necessary is that in the near future it will be impossible to continue sending the NEWS-LETTER free to all members. According to rapidly maturing plans names of alumni who do not contribute to the financial program of the Alumni Association must be dropped from the regular mailing list.

Some of the features of the new plan are so obvious as scarcely to require comment. In the first place only one annual appeal for funds will be necessary. Any gift to the Alumni Division of the Accreditment Plan, however small, will receive credit for payment of annual membership dues in the Alumni Association, a gift to the College and a subscription to the ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER. This is the new three-point program of your Alumni Association. Any gift to the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan is considered in the threefold light of membership, gift, and subscription.

Membership in the Goshen College Alumni Association identifies the alumnus with the long line of young people who have enjoyed the advantages offered by Goshen College. It identifies him as a part of the growing body of men and women whose interests are at Goshen and who wish to see Goshen College prosper. The Association is becoming more and more active and powerful in advancing the work of the College and in promoting the business and professional success of its members. It collects and preserves accurate information concerning some 3,000 alumni. Alumni, young and old, can benefit by keeping in touch with so large and influential a group of their former friends and associates.

In the second place every alumnus of a college owes it to himself to surrender his natural selfishness and promote a worthy cause. Gratitude to a worthy educational institution demands a monetary return on the investment which Goshen College made and is making in her students. A college education costs more than the student pays. An annual gift of ten dollars barely pays the interest on what the student's residence at Goshen College for one year costs the College above tuition paid. The College has sent thousands of alumni out to earn a better living and enjoy a larger life of service. Now is their opportunity to demonstrate that the College motto, "Culture for Service," is effective in their lives. A donation of ten dollars is equivalent to the income from two hundred and fifty dollars at four per cent. An annual donation of ten dollars over a period of years is "Living Endowment." It will serve to secure membership in the N. C. A. for your College.

In the third place a subscription to the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan includes a subscription to the ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER of the Goshen College Alumni Association. Six times a year the NEWS-LETTER brings news of Goshen College and of classmates and friends. Six times a year the alumnus can relive the happy, carefree days at Goshen College. A coming issue—probably the next issue—will be a special, illustrated number printed on India paper and carrying cuts of many of the scenic and "historic" spots in and about Parkside. That issue probably cannot be sent free to all persons on the present mailing list. You may miss it, if you do not send in your subscription now.

What shall be the size of your subscription? We cannot reach our goal—Goshen College a member of the N. C. A.—unless hundreds of alumni subscribe at least ten dollars. This should be a minimum. If you are employed, you can probably spare ten dollars. Even if you are still paying your college debts and are receiving eight hundred dollars or more per year, you can give ten dollars, can you not? Ten dollars is only one per cent of one thousand dollars. Ten dollars is less than three cents a day for one year for any one alumnus, but think what this small sacrifice on your part, added to that of your fellow alumni in many lands, can do for the College! If you had it in your power to secure admission into the N. C. A. for Goshen College by paying ten dollars, would you not do it—and gladly? But it is in your power. For your gift will inspire others, and the combined gifts of all loyal alumni will help to realize the goal—Goshen College in the North Central Association by 1940.

The advantages of such accreditment are perhaps too obvious to require enumeration. One immediate result will be that all questions of accreditment for the teacher training work of the College will be adjusted automatically. At present the work of the music, German and commerce departments is not recognized by the state of Indiana for the high school teacher's license because those departments were not well organized when other departments were accredited, and now the State Department of Teacher Training has made a ruling that no additional accreditment will be given to non-members of the N. C. A. The State Department may require four years of training for elementary teaching in Indiana in the near future. This matter has been under discussion for some time by state officials and is (Continued on page 12)

Entered as second class matter November 17, 1924, at the postoffice at Goshen, Indiana, under Act of August 24, 1912. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Sec. 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized November 1, 1924.

EDITOR'S CHAT

The Alumni Office extends the season's greetings to the entire alumni circle. May the year 1937 bring each one the fullest measure of happiness that he has ever enjoyed and may your sphere of Christian influence extend in ever-widening wavelets.

And now that the Alumni Association has been invited to join in the achievement of a tangible, attainable goal, let each one do his small but very necessary bit to place Goshen College on the list that is fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Every issue of the NEWS LETTER has, so far, been free to all members of the Goshen College Alumni Association. It may be necessary to discontinue this policy before the next issue of the NEWS LETTER is printed (in March, 1937). It will be a special issue, profusely illustrated with campus and Parkside cuts. To make sure that you will receive the next number, send in your subscription to the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan now.

"Who is an alumnus of Goshen College?" This is a question that we are still called on to answer. The answer is very easy: If you have been a student of Goshen College or of the Elkhart Institute, you are entitled to all the rights of a member of the Goshen College Alumni Association no matter whether you have graduated or not. This is now the practice of nearly all colleges and universities.

When your Regional Director visits you during the next three or four weeks to solicit your subscription to the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan, make him feel that it is a privilege to work for the College. It is. He is not paid for his work. He is donating his services and his time. He and the other Regional Directors are doing the work of an Alumni Field Secretary, but they are serving without pay. They are saving the College and the Alumni Association the salary of an experienced field man. Treat them kindly.

The slogan of the Board of Directors—EVERY ALUMNUS A CONTRIBUTOR EVERY YEAR—is more fitting than ever under the new plan. The annual subscriptions of alumni will make membership in the North Central Association possible, but after Goshen College is admitted into the North Central Association the annual subscriptions will be necessary to maintain the educational standards that are required of members of the N. C. A. The whole program will take time, sacrifice and perseverance, but it will be worth all it costs because it will make Goshen College better able to carry out the high purposes of the founders—to educate young people for the service of God and for helping to do the work of the Church in bringing the Gospel to a needy world.

ANNUAL DUES

The following have paid their annual dues to the Goshen College Alumni Association between September 15 and December 22. After January 20, 1937, all money paid into the Alumni Treasury for any purpose will be credited as a gift to the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan. But, if they so desire, alumni may specify for what purpose their contributions shall be used. If sums designated for publishing the NEWS LETTER exceed the amount necessary for that purpose, the balance will be kept in reserve for publishing the 1940 ALUMNI DIRECTORY.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross L. Gerber 33 (E. Ruth Hertzler 35), Sugar Creek, Ohio.

Some of these gifts are very generous, but all gifts to the College, large and small, are gratefully received and appreciated and are spent with scrupulous care for the advancement of the Lord's work in preparing young people for service in His kingdom.

FACULTY ACTIVITIES

In addition to his duties at the College, President Sanford Calvin Yoder assisted in a number of communion services in the churches surrounding Goshen during the months of October and November. He also spoke at a mission meeting at Roanoke, Illinois, and at the Forks, Shore, and Clinton Frame congregations in Indiana.

On December 3, President Yoder attended a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, held at Elkhart.

On Friday evening and Saturday morning, December 18 and 19, he spoke at the nonconformity conference held at North Lima, Ohio, and the following Sunday filled appointments at the Canton Mission in the morning, at the Kidron Mennonite Church at Kidron, Ohio, in the afternoon, and at Orrville in the evening. After a two-day stay at the office he left for a trip west which took him into Colorado in the interest of the Mission Board. At La Junta, Colorado, on December 24 he officiated at the double wedding of Harve Driver 30 and Priscilla Liechty, and of Myron Lapp and Velma Brenneman.

On November 15, C. L. Graber, pastor of the College congregation and business manager of College, participated in the dedicatory services at the new Central Mennonite Church near Archbold, Ohio. Sunday school was omitted and C. L. Graber and Maurice O'Connell, of Lima, Ohio, spoke at the morning service held during the Sunday-school hour.

From Nov. 15 to Nov. 22 Mr. Graber held a series of revival meetings at the Pleasant Hill Mennonite Church near Smithville, Ohio. Four young people made public confession during the week. Brother Graber's grandfather, Christian Conrad, was a minister at this church when he came to America from Switzerland and lies buried in the cemetery near the church.

Dean Harold S. Bender 18 attended the September meeting of the Mennonite Central Committee in Chicago, also a meeting at the same time of the continuation committee of the historic peace churches (Mennonites, Quakers, and Brethren). With President Yoder he attended a meeting in Chicago on December 13, of a section of the American Friends Service Committee at which proposals for joint relief work in Spain were discussed. Dean Bender addressed the Goshen College Peace Society at its October meeting on "The Peace Work of the Historic Peace Churches." He spoke at the Nappanee Mennonite Church, Sunday evening, November 8, on "Menno Simons." On Tuesday evening December 8 he addressed the Fellowship Club of Milford, Indiana, on "Shadows over Europe."

On Friday and Saturday, November 20, 21 Dr. Silas Hertzler and Dr. M. C. Lehman attended the Indiana State Conference of Student Teaching at Manchester College, North Manchester, Indiana. Dr. Hertzler participated in the Intermediate-Grammar School Panel discussion. The following Goshen College critic teachers from the Goshen City Schools attended the conference: Superintendent O. L. Walter, Mrs. Maude Cripe Webb 30, Kathleen Moore, J. E. Larimer x25, Otis L. Larimer, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Duker, Noble Frederick 36, Pearl Dunn, Irene Bickel, Dorothy Deardorff, William E. Pletcher, Gerald Moyer, Caroline Stutz, J. Galen Whitehead, Glen Hart, Stanley Schenck, and Harry Young.

Professor I. E. Burkhart 26 spent the week end of December 6 at West Liberty, Ohio, in the interests of the College. He visited the Mennonite communities in Holmes County, Ohio, over the week end of December 20. His work is in connection with the debt reduction program and also in soliciting students for the Winter Bible School at Goshen College beginning Jan. 4.

Dr. M. C. Lehman, president of the Alumni Association, filled the following appointments since the last issue of the NEWS LETTER: Nov. 7, Taught Christian Leadership Course, two sessions, at Goshen; Nov. 21, attended the annual dinner of the Association of College and University Professors at Bloomington, Indiana. In the afternoon of the same day he met with the program committee of the Indiana Philosophical Club. Nov. 22-29, he held a series of evangelistic services at Pleasant View Mennonite Church six miles north of Goshen. Nov. 25, he addressed the high-school students of Jefferson Township High School. Nov. 26, he addressed the Middlebury Mennonite Church on the morning of Thanksgiving Day. Dec. 15, he spoke to the Child Study Club of Goshen on "Creating a Religious Atmosphere in the Home for the Child." Dec. 28-Jan. 3, he gave a series of talks at Hopedale, Illinois, on Sunday-school Administration and New Testament Survey.

Thursday, 7:00 P. M.—

Discussion Group (answers to questions submitted by the student body).

FACULTY MEETINGS

The committee appointed to arrange programs for faculty meetings has scheduled the following series for each month: business, social, religious, educational. The announcement for the faculty social on December 1 at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Glen Miller, on Ninth Street, carried the message: "Bring with you a book you have read recently." Part of the evening was spent in examining and discussing the book brought by each faculty member and his wife. The remainder of the evening was devoted to an illustrated lecture by a faculty member, on "Boulder, Colorado, and Rocky Mountain National Park."

The faculty met in the social room of Kulp Hall for the December 8 meeting. President Sanford C. Yoder led a discussion of the topic: "What is the individual faculty member's responsibility for the spiritual life of the campus, and how can he effectively contribute?" Five-minute responses were given by Dr. Guy F. Hershberger, Dr. Glen R. Miller, Misses Olive Wyse and Mary Royer, and C. L. Graber.

The educational program for November was presented by the committee on extracurricular activities,

Dr. Guy F. Hershberger, chairman. Dr. Edward Yoder spoke on "Aims and Values of Extracurricular Work among College Students;" Dr. Glen Miller on "A Point System as a Possible Means of Regulating Extracurricular Activities;" and Dr. Paul Bender on "An Improved Personnel Service as a Possible Means of Regulating Extracurricular Activities."

GOSPEL TOURS

The College Y. P. C. A. sent out three different Gospel teams to a number of different Mennonite churches during the holiday vacation. One group consisting of John Duerksen, of Thurman, Colorado, leader; John Friesen, of Jamgaon, C. P., India; Emanuel Hertzler, of Norristown, Pa.; Mark Hartzler, of West Liberty, Ohio; and Paul Kaufman, of Peoria, Illinois toured western Pennsylvania, New York and Ontario. They were gone for two weeks, giving twenty-one programs at twenty-one different churches.

The second group consisting of Dwight Yoder, of Bellefontaine, Ohio, leader; Waldo Lehman, of Goshen; Lloyd Conrad, of Louisville, Ohio; Lawrence Burkholder, of Newville, Pa.; Richard Yoder, of West Liberty, Ohio; Dwight Weldy, of Wakarusa, Indiana; Franklin Bishop, of Doylestown, Pa.; and William Friesen, of Jamgaon, C. P., India, visited Ohio. They were gone for one week, giving eleven different programs.

The third group consisting of Leland Bachman of Morton, Illinois, leader; John Coffman, of Vineland, Ontario; Ira Amstutz, of Dalton, Ohio; Harold Miller, of Springs, Pa.; Timothy Brenneman, of Elida, Ohio; Maurice Burkholder, of Nampa, Idaho; Vernon Miller, of Berlin, Ohio; Charles Neff, of Chicago; and Francis Smucker, of Smithville, Ohio, went into Michigan. They gave nine programs at nine different churches in Michigan.

This is the first year that more than two teams have left the campus during the holiday season to carry the Gospel message.

GOSHEN COLLEGE PEACE SOCIETY

The peace society sponsored a public meeting—an Armistice Day program—on November 13. C. L. Graber, business manager of the College, who was a prominent "C. O." during the World War, gave an address on "Not Recommended for Re-enlistment." He presented a graphic picture of camp-life experiences and what it means to preserve a nonresistant Christian testimony in time of war.

DER DEUTSCHE VEREIN

On November 21 the German Club sponsored a public program of song given by the Gerber Sisters trio of Sonnenberg, Ohio. The program, of both sacred and secular numbers, included Swiss folk songs and German numbers. Mrs. Harold S. Bender (Elizabeth Horsch 18), instructor in German and sponsor of the German Club, gave an address on the Swiss people and their folk ways.

THE "MESSIAH"

The Goshen College chorus, directed by Professor Walter E. Yoder, 13 and 33, presented twenty-eight numbers from Handel's "Messiah" on Friday evening, December 18. Solo parts were taken by Professor Yoder, Elinor Smith 36, Dwight Weldy 37, Mae Orendorff 39, Sarah Christophel 39, Harriet Lapp 37, Ruth Ebersole 37, and William Friesen 37. Professor Yoder hopes to give an annual presentation of the "Messiah" to the College community.

LETTER FROM DR. LILLIE SHENK

The following letter written for the NEWS LETTER was dated October 28 but arrived too late for the November issue:

"The medical work in Africa continues to be interesting and does not lack variety. This week the second spear wound patient came in. Accidents happen when men go hunting for game. They are a little different from automobile accidents at home, but require the same treatment.

"The last week in June I had the pleasure of attending the Tanganyika Africa Inland Mission Conference after which I had nearly a week's visit with Dr. Nina Maynard. Dr. Maynard and her husband have spent nearly twenty-three years in Africa.

"From the Maynard home, I left for a cruise around Lake Victoria from Mwanza to Musoma, with a stop-off at Kisumu for ten days. At this place I visited three missions: the Africa Inland, the Church of God, and the Church Missionary Society.

"On the west side of the lake the steamer stopped at Bukoba, a rather stormy and rocky place which has a rainfall of ninety inches per year. The growth of vegetation there is very luxuriant. I bought nine huge bananas for a cent apiece which would be two American cents for the lot."

AVON-AURORA MUSICALE

In their annual musicale on December 5 the Avon and Aurora Societies presented Professor John Gauis Baumgartner 23, bass soloist of the Westminster Choir and teacher of voice in the Westminster Choir School at Princeton, New Jersey. Professor Baumgartner's interpretation of Bach's "Mighty Lord and King All Glorious," Dvorak's "I Will Sing New Songs," Schubert's "The Almighty," and Brahm's "In Summer Fields," were especially appreciated. He was accompanied by Miss Elinor Smith 36.

THE GOSHEN COLLEGE RECORD

The December issue of the Record contains two block prints by Professor Arthur L. Sprunger 22, art instructor in Goshen high school and in Goshen College. Another distinctive feature of the December number is the increase in size to thirty-two pages. This increase in size is made possible at no extra cost to the College through the excellent work of the hustling editor and his business staff in selling advertising to Goshen merchants.

THE ACCREDITMENT PLAN

The following article appeared on the front page of The News-Democrat, of Goshen (formerly The Goshen Daily News-Times and Democrat) on Monday, November 30, under the caption: "Association Membership College Goal, Goshen College Plans Campaign to Attain Requirements, Alumni Agree to Assist in Drive For Funds To Give School Added Prestige." It reports accurately and concisely the decisions and plans of the Alumni Association for participation in the Goshen College Accreditment Plan.

"At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Goshen College Alumni Association held at the College on Saturday the board approved plans for a campaign to assist in securing membership for Goshen College in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools within the next four or five years. The plans drawn up jointly by the College Administrative Committee and the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association, and unanimously accepted by the board at the Saturday morning meeting, call for an intensive financial campaign to be launched immediately under the personal direction of Professor John S. Umble. Emphasis will not be on raising a stipulated sum for a permanent endowment fund but on securing pledges from a large number of alumni to pay a small sum annually to increase the general efficiency of the educational program of the College.

Four-Point Program

"The alumni drive is part of a larger program being conducted by Business Manager C. L. Graber and his assistants. The business manager hopes to secure the necessary funds for Goshen College membership in the North Central Association by vigorous prosecution of a four-point program: first, careful economy in the administration of the noneducational operations of the College; second, free will offerings from the church constituency of the College; third, contributions from a growing list of friends who annually pay substantial amounts to the College for current operating expenses; and fourth, annual gifts from alumni.

"Hopes for early recognition of Goshen College by the North Central Association are based not only on the improved educational program of the College during the past four years but also on modified requirements for North Central membership. For many years the standards were fixed and arbitrary. For instance, a college was required to employ a certain percentage of instructors with advanced degrees, to add a certain number of volumes in the library, to control a fixed amount of properly invested endowment and so on. These purely quantitative requirements have now been revised in favor of a qualitative measurement of the educational efficiency of a college or university.

New Requirements

"At a luncheon meeting held at the college on Saturday noon these new standards of measurement and the possibility of bringing Goshen College up to the required standards within the next few years were explained to a group of alumni called to the campus for this purpose by Sanford C. Yoder, president of the College, and Dr. M. C. Lehman, president of the Alumni Association.

"The following regional directors of the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan were present: Ralph Beechy, Berlin, Ohio; Howard C. Yoder, Wooster, Ohio; Paul Yoder, Hubbard, Oregon; S. C. Plank and C. G. Smucker, West Liberty, Ohio; A. P. Hallman, Akron, Pa.; Lloyd Hartzler, Harrisonville, Missouri; Elizabeth Sieber, Freeport, Ill.; Lois Gunden, Flanagan, Ill.; Carl Hostetler, Walnut Creek, Ohio; C. P. Martin, Elkhart; Amasa Kauffman, Middlebury; Clarence Holoway, Nappanee; Ross Gerber, Sugar Creek, Ohio; Melvin Gingerich, Washington, Iowa; Roy Umble, Mishawaka; Tilman Smith, Roanoke, Ill.; Irene Eschliman, Dalton, Ohio; L. C. Hartzler, Chicago, Ill.; Allen Ebersole, Elkhart; Ellrose Zook, Scottdale, Pa.; I. E. Burkhart, Goshen; W. H. Smith, Bloomington; Ruth Gnagy, Topeka; John Baer, Grantsville, Md.; and Mabel Smith, Eureka, Illinois.

"President Yoder in a brief address spoke highly of the training and morale of the faculty and of the excellent quality of students in the institution. He expressed confidence that the alumni would rally enthusiastically to the support of the new program for the accreditment of Goshen College by the North Central Association.

"Dean H. S. Bender explained the new standards for admission into the North Central and summarized the findings of the survey commission, a committee of the Faculty which studied North Central standards and made a scientific examination of Goshen College to determine how nearly the school meets the standards for admission. Dean Bender stated that the survey revealed the following needs; four or five additional instructors to provide for the growing student body, additional library facilities, and additional provision for more direct guidance and help for the individual student. Dean Bender concluded by saying that these items are now a part of the immediate plans of Goshen College and that these standards can easily be met within the next few years if funds are provided.

"C. L. Graber, business manager, then presented a chart of the financial status of Goshen College to show the grounds for the hope that the College can soon meet the requirements for admission into the North Central Association. He estimated that annual gifts from alumni totaling $4,000 to $4,500 would be sufficient to supplement other sources of income needed to insure the success of the accreditment program.

Help From Alumni

"Dr. M. C. Lehman, president of the Alumni Association, followed with an analysis of the membership of the association to show that alumni could subscribe the necessary amount without hardship and expressed the conviction that alumni support of the accreditment plan would be spontaneous and general. In closing Dr. Lehman said, 'This is the strongest and most clear cut challenge to alumni in the entire history of the institution. Alumni will gladly give ten or twenty dollars per year to Goshen College to make membership in the North Central Association possible for Goshen College.'

"At the close of the meeting Professor Umble, who has been appointed to serve as director of the Alumni Division of the Goshen Accreditment Plan under the supervision of Business Manager C. L. Graber, announced that present plans call for personal solicitation of more than 1000 alumni. Regional directors are expected to report on all alumni in their respective districts before February 1. Regional directors present at the meeting voted unanimously to support the program.

"In recent years Goshen College students and graduates have been accorded sympathetic consideration by accrediting agencies and examining officials in nearly every state in the union, but increased prestige would come to Goshen College with membership in the North Central Association. This is the first time in the history of Goshen College that admission into the association has been more than a far distant, almost unattainable goal. Alumni and friends of the institution can now make membership in the N. C. A., a certainty for Goshen College by supporting the present program."

AN EDITORIAL

The following editorial appeared in The News-Democrat on Tuesday, December 1. The editorial was written by Mr. R. C. Lehman, editor, and is included here because it presents the view of a representative and influential Goshen citizen and because it shows a clear grasp of the issues involved.

Goshen College

"Announcement that Goshen College has set out on a campaign to raise its standards to meet the requirements for membership in the North Central Association of Colleges is significant if for no other reason than that it is a new demonstration of the spirit of progress and advancement which is guiding the policies of that institution.

"Goshen College has long been known as an excellent institution of learning. It will require comparatively few changes to come up to the standards demanded by the Association, and those changes are largely as to size of faculty and equipment which can be made with a little larger income. The importance to Goshen College in becoming a member of the association lies in the fact that its present excellence as an educational institution will become more formally recognized among other colleges and universities and among prospective students. While Goshen College students and graduates have been given unusual consideration by accrediting agencies everywhere, membership of the school in the North Central Association of Colleges will make such recognition automatic.

"Success of the College plan depends almost entirely on its ability to raise additional funds. The school, like most others when they seek financial aid, will look largely to its alumni as the group most sympathetic to its advancement. Gifts from other sources however will be welcomed and Goshen citizens should not overlook this opportunity to aid an institution that means much to the city. Goshen College is a distinct asset to the city. It provides an excellent and economical higher education for all who want to avail themselves of it. Many Goshen students who might otherwise be deprived of a college education because of its cost can obtain it here, and even for those students who desire to specialize in courses not available here can receive as good or better preliminary instruction at Goshen College as anywhere else. The advantages of an institution of this kind to any city are obvious, and any improvement or advancement made by the school will increase those advantages."

On the morning after this editorial appeared in the local daily, a prominent business man of Goshen wrote President Sanford C. Yoder a letter enclosing his check for two hundred fifty dollars for the College and expressing his gratification at learning that the alumni have pledged their support to the accreditment program. Gifts from alumni will have an added value in interesting those who are potential donors. Large givers do not bestow their gifts on educational institutions whose alumni do not back it with enthusiastic support.

HOMECOMING

(An article written by Ruth Buzzard 38 for the December issue of the Goshen College Record. Written by a co-ed from the Kulp Hall angle, it should prove of general interest, nevertheless.)

"Hi! How are you? When did you get here? Who came with you? How's the old gang?" Such questions as these are drowned in the noise and flurry accompanying another arrival of homecomers. Hearty hand shakes, warm hand clasps, and a general feeling of congenial friendship characterize the night before Thanksgiving at Goshen College. Bed time, which may be any time from 8 o'clock to 2 in the morning in the homecoming season, means an argument or discussion on the all important issue—Who's going to sleep on top in the double deck cots in the halls? Morning finds most homecomers and many students enjoying one morning in bed to catch up on some much needed sleep.

By 11:00 practically every sleepy head has arisen and filed quietly into Chapel Hall for a period of devotion and worship. The true spirit of Thanksgiving permeates the atmosphere as President Yoder conducts the homecoming service. Then each person finds some old pal that he hasn't yet seen, and oh's and ah's are heard amidst the general confusion in the reading room resulting from ticket sales for the Thanksgiving banquet. Finally 12:30 arrives and we elbow our way with the crowd to the dining hall which is set for four hundred people. The large painting of the Ad Building and the fountain at the end and the natural looking gates at the opposite end give us the first hint that the theme is "Alma Mater." Law books, psychology books, physics books, all sizes and kinds of books, adorn the tables as center pieces. Goshen College banners wave to us from nut-cups filled with "Beans at Alma Mater." As our eyes take in the well-planned arrangement, we say, "Hats off to the social committee!" As neat looking waiters, dressed in black and white, bring in the well filled plates, our tune changes to, "Hats off to the cooks!" Golden brown turkey, creamy mashed potatoes, and delicious dressing constitute only a small part of the meal. When we have finished the last crumb of tasty mince meat pie, Roy Umble presides and introduces "the three speakers of the affirmative," each one toasting to the theme of our college song. Melvin Gingerich 26 speaks on "There's a Spot in Indiana"; Retha Hostetler 36 on "Here We Learn Life's Duties Doing"; and Tilman Smith 28 on "And the Lasting Ties of Friendship." A ladies' quartet—Olive Yoder 36, Elizabeth Sieber 36, Christine Yoder 38, and Beulah Troyer 36—and a piano solo by Elinor Smith 36 conclude the program. Four o'clock finds dish washers hard at work in the kitchen while long-parted couples are riding to the dam and last year romances are being brushed up again.

Too much turkey for dinner accounts for the slim crowd at the lunch served in the evening just before the chorus program. As we listen to the harmonious strains of selections from the Messiah we can scarcely realize that the first day of homecoming is almost over,—almost, we say, for just following the program someone hands us a slip of paper on which is written: "Come to our room at 10:15 tonight. Just a few members of the old gang are getting together." Will we be there? I should guess so! Formality is thrown away, stiffness is forgotten and we have one grand time of which refreshments are no minor part.

All good things must end and we finally climb into bed nibbling on the cookies mother has sent from home, and realizing once again that nobody cooks quite like mother.

On Friday we don our most intelligent looks and the professors dig up the most interesting lectures, for the homecomers are visiting classes. The day is all too short for soon it's time for the homecoming lecture in the evening and we overhear a conversation about the lecturer. "It's a lady lecturer. She's presenting some kind of American scenes or something. I think she'll be plenty good." We anxiously await her entrance and the moment she arrives upon the scene we realize that we aren't going to be disappointed. Her sparkling eyes and meaningful gestures tell us volumes, and we come from the lecture feeling greatly entertained.

School teachers do have a lot of interesting things to talk about, so dishwashers have all scrammed Saturday morning by the time the Junior reunion is over. Consequently Charlie gets his first lesson in running a dishwasher. Saturday brings with it the hustle and bustle of old literary members gathering chairs into the appointed rooms for literary reunions.

Social committees plan dainty refreshments and the smell of hot chocolate is in the air. Each literary member who appears on the program is doing his level best to prove that Goshen College literary members are still carrying on the same principles that our uncles and aunts had when they were in college. Everyone is happy for everybody is working together to make homecoming a grand success. When the long lines begin streaming into the dining hall we can't be accused of envying the cook although we do say we're mighty proud of her efficient service during this season.

"The game starts at two and if you don't want to stand you'd better hurry." So we hasten to the gym which has been simply decorated in our school colors. Sizzling hot hamburgers are on sale near the door and do they ever taste good! Above the general hum of conversation comes Ernie Davis' voice as he announces the opening of the annual basketball game between the alumni and varsity. The fight is on and is it exciting? One minute we're sure the varsity is coming out on top and the next minute the alumni scores four more points. Oh! the score's tied! In the third quarter we find the alumni gaining the upper hand, finishing with a score of 39-25 in their favor. But wait! Don't go yet, the show's only half over. There are Eddie and Charlie playing a tip top game of pingpong. Now the mats are placed on the floor and on comes the tumbling team. As we are admiring their agility we see a new figure on the scene and upon close scrutiny we discover it is Mr. Davis. The crowd laughs uproariously and claps for more as the team performs its last antics.

Time flies rapidly; here we are in the dimly lighted dining hall which represents an opera house. From the first strains of perfect melody to the final harmonies produced by the college orchestra it has been one beautiful symphony. Only one more night of homecoming. Already a few have spoken parting good byes. Worship on Sunday morning gives time for peace and quiet, then all is flurry and hurry amidst the departure of homecomers. "Write oftener now." "I'm glad I could see you again. It's been great having you here." The last farewell is given, the last parting words are said and quiet reigns once more. Gloves, scarfs, handkerchiefs, soap, articles of every size and description are left to remind us that homecoming is over.

"It's over, folks,—the grandest homecoming we've ever had. I guess I'll go to my room and start on Chapter 2 of my term paper."

causing no little anxiety to the administration.

But not only the students in the teacher training departments would benefit from Goshen College membership in the N. C. A. All work—liberal arts, pre-medical, pre-dental, pre-engineering, music, and commerce—would automatically be accredited by membership in the N. C. A. The Association of American Medical Colleges has a ruling that only students coming from N. C. A. schools may enter Grade A medical colleges. Every Goshen College student who has entered a medical college in the past ten years has done so only by a special act of grace by an admissions officer. North Central requirements are not arbitrary. Meeting North Central standards would actually mean making Goshen College a better school. Goshen College graduates have received fine consideration from the largest universities in the past, but accreditment must be granted to the individual student and in many cases involves prolonged correspondence and unnecessary delay. Every future student will benefit when Goshen College is admitted into the N. C. A.

For once the goal is in sight. It is possible for Goshen College alumni to help place their Alma Mater into the North Central Association. And when that day arrives their Goshen College diplomas will have added value.

ALUMNI DAY

The program for Alumni Day, Saturday, June 5, is as follows:

10:00 A. M. (CDST) Literary Society Reunions
12:00 M. Lunch
2:00 P. M. Annual Business Meeting
3:00 P. M. Athletic Events
6:00 P. M. Annual Alumni Reunion and Banquet

At a recent meeting the Board of Directors decided that the Association should dispose of all routine business matters such as reading of minutes, election of directors, induction of new members, and reports of officers and committees, in an afternoon business meeting as was formerly the custom of the Association. This arrangement will leave the entire evening open for the dinner, toasts, and the annual address. The Board has secured Orie O. Miller 15 as principal speaker. In January Mr. Miller visited South America as the official representative of the Mennonite Central Relief Committee. He made the trip by airplane across Mexico and Central America, down the west coast of South America, and over to Buenos Aires. From there he traveled by rail to Asuncion. At that point the President of Paraguay placed a government plane and escort at Mr. Miller's disposal for about two weeks while he was visiting the Mennonite settlement in the Paraguayan Chaco and transacting the business for which he had made the trip. His was a unique experience, and it will be a rare treat for alumni to hear of it. Among the interesting personalities who will give toasts are Dr. Orie C. Yoder 02, of Peru, Illinois; Elvin Snyder 27, missionary on furlough from South America; and Professor Amos Ebersole, head of the music department at Heidelberg University.

Alumni are urged to plan to spend the entire day on the campus to renew old acquaintance, stroll over familiar spots with friends of long ago, and learn about the present work and plans and future prospects of our Alma Mater.

THE ALUMNI DIVISION OF THE GOSHEN COLLEGE ACCREDITMENT PLAN

The new plan for securing membership in the North Central Association for Goshen College is arousing enthusiasm among alumni. Work on the plan did not begin until after Home-Coming and considerable time was consumed in perfecting an organization. In number of contributors and in total amount of cash donations however, the Alumni Division is ahead of its schedule as we go to press (May 6). Two hundred and twenty-one alumni have contributed two thousand and thirty dollars in cash. The office has in its files signed subscription cards for several hundred dollars more. More than twice as many other alumni have indicated in various ways that they expect to contribute. In addition to these, approximately one thousand alumni have received subscription cards but have not responded.

Since the plan was described at length in the January NEWS-LETTER, it is scarcely necessary to present it in detail here. Briefly, it is this: To supplement the income from Goshen's growing endowment fund, it is proposed to raise a specific annual amount to raise the regular annual income of the College to approximately $30,000. The alumni share of this needed amount is estimated at between four and five thousand dollars. (The Business Manager of the College insists that alumni will need to raise less than four thousand dollars.)

Each alumnus is asked to make an annual donation to the Alumni Division. Subscription cards are provided so that the alumnus may indicate how much he wishes to contribute annually and for how long a period. To date a large proportion of the subscriptions are for ten dollars a year for a five-year period. A considerable number of subscriptions are for one dollar a year. Several alumni donations are for fifty dollars a year for five years. The administrative officials of the College each contributed one hundred dollars.

When the Board of Directors organized the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan, they decided to recommend discontinuance of annual dues. Only one annual appeal for funds will be made by the Alumni Association. Any contribution, however small, will serve three purposes: a gift to the College, annual dues, and a subscription to the NEWS-LETTER. Any alumnus mailing or sending a subscription to the alumni office before June 1, either with the money or with a pledge to pay before September 1, will receive a Charter Membership Certificate in the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan. The certificate is approximately four times as large as the accompanying cut.

This issue of the NEWS-LETTER (May, 1937) is being mailed to all members of the Alumni Association. The Board at its recent meeting decided to send subsequent issues of the NEWS-LETTER to active members only. "Active members" is interpreted to mean those who contribute to the work of the Association and will include all regular contributors to the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan. If, however, alumni wish to specify that their gift of one dollar or more shall go to the Alumni NEWS-LETTER Fund, they may do so and all funds so designated are placed in the special alumni treasury.

Let all alumni send in their subscription cards before June 1 even if the money cannot be sent until a later date.

A large part of the success of the Alumni Division is due to the excellent work of the various Regional Directors. The editor hopes to print a complete list of them in the July number.

Following is a list of those who have sent in subscriptions to the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan:

CAMPUS NOTES

The latter part of January, President Sanford Calvin Yoder spent a few days in Texas in the interest of the mission work that is being opened among the Mexicans. While in that section he visited the Reist family who were formerly residents of Goshen. He also enjoyed the opportunity of crossing the border into Mexico. En route home he stopped for a short time in the Kansas oil fields where the Board of Education owns a few producing wells. He also filled the following appointments: Sunday morning service, Archbold, Ohio; Easter week-end, Detroit, Michigan; and Sunday morning service at Kalona, Iowa. He drove to Indianapolis, April 3, for an interview with the State Department regarding the new teacher training accreditment regulations. He was accompanied by Dr. Silas Hertzler and Misses Olive Wyse, LaVerne Yoder and Retha Hostetler. Dr. Hertzler attended the meeting of the Indiana State Placement Association and Miss Wyse attended the state meeting of the Home Economics Teachers. On April 10 President Yoder attended the annual meeting of the North Central Association at Chicago. On April 14 he attended a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities at Elkhart, Indiana. On April 29 President Yoder and family motored to Iowa where he officiated at the funeral of D. W. Wertz, a former parishioner of his during his pastorate at the East Union Church. He will preach the Baccalaureate sermon for the Center high school near Kalona, Iowa, on May 16. The following Sunday he will perform a similar service for the high school at Cullom, Illinois.

Dean Harold S. Bender 18 spoke at the Peace Institute held at Marion, Indiana, on January 13. He also took part in the Peace Conference of the Ontario Mennonite Conference held at the First Mennonite Church in Kitchener, Ontario, on February 3 and 4 and spoke at the thirtieth anniversary program of the Ontario Mennonite Bible School held at Kitchener on February 5. On March 13 he took part in the peace conference of the historic peace churches held at Manchester College, North Manchester, Indiana. Dean Bender attended a meeting of the Mennonite Central Committee in Philadelphia in April. On April 5 he spoke to the Elkhart County Ministerial Association on "How to Keep America out of War," and on April 13 addressed the Elkhart Y. M. C. A. Industrial Club on "Can America Keep out of War?" Dean Bender gave the commencement address at the Shipshewana high school, Shipshewana, Indiana, on Friday evening, April 23.

On February 12, C. L. Graber went to Washington, D. C., to join the delegation of seven men made up of Friends, Brethren and Mennonites who called on President Roosevelt in behalf of the Historic Peace churches. The other Mennonite representative was Rev. A. J. Neuenschwander of Quakertown, Pa. Mr. Graber reports recent gifts to the College as follows: From C. S. Schertz of Goshen, Ind., forty acres of land near Eureka, Ill. (Rev. Schertz passed away recently). This land is valued at about $5,000. From the estate of Levi Yoder, North Lima, Ohio, a bequest has been made which will be approximately $3,000. Annual gifts from individuals and churches for the operating expenses of the College this year equal last year when over $4,000 was given for the College. Recently Mr. Graber assisted in the securing of loans for the Mennonite Central Committee for the land purchases in Paraguay on behalf of the Mennonite colonists there. This took him into various parts of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Pennsylvania. On the evening of April 17, Mr. Graber gave an address at the Chicago branch of the Goshen College Alumni Association on "The Advantages of the Handicaps of the Small Christian College." Sunday morning, April 18, he preached at the Home Mission and in the evening spoke at a peace meeting on the subject, "My Experiences During the World War."

Following are speaking engagements of Dr. M. C. Lehman, president of the Alumni Association, since the January issue of the NEWS-LETTER was published:

January 3—Spoke to the Ten Commandments Club of First M. E. Church in Goshen on "Blessed are they that mourn."

February 12—Spoke to Women's Missionary Society of Goshen on "Thou art the Christ the Son of the Living God."

February 16—Addressed the Literary Clubs of LaGrange county on "Will Europe Go to War?"

March 7 and 14—Preached at First Brethren Church in Goshen.

March 21—Evening address at St. John's Evangelical Church, Elkhart, on "Friendship Across the Barriers."

March 25-28—Five Passion Week addresses at Oak Grove Church, Smithville, Ohio.

April 11—Address to Congregational-Christian Church at Elkhart on "Fellowship with Christ."

April 12—Address to Lion's Club of Goshen on "Some Conditions in the Orient Affecting International Peace."

April 16-18—Four addresses at the peace meeting held at the Mennonite Church at Flanagan, Illinois.

The Executive Committee of the Mennonite Publication Board has appointed Dr. Edward Yoder, professor of ancient languages at the College, as editor of the Advanced Sunday School Lesson Quarterly, together with such other duties as he may be called upon to perform. This appointment has made it necessary to relieve Dr. Yoder of some of his duties as dean of men. Chapel excuses are now granted by John E. Coffman 33, proctor of Coffman Hall and assistant librarian of the Mennonite Historical Library of Goshen College. Dr. and Mrs. Yoder and their son Virgil rent the west downstairs apartment of the Goshen College Apartments.

During three weeks of March Dr. Cornelius Krahn visited the College. Dr. Krahn is a Mennonite, native of Russia, who has been studying and doing research for ten years in Germany and Holland. He has published a book on Menno Simons, and is an authority on the life and work of this sixteenth century Reformation leader. He is spending some months on a tour of the United States and Canada for the purpose of becoming acquainted with the Mennonites of North America. While here he spoke to several groups. The German club heard him tell of his childhood home in Russia. Before the Mennonite Historical Society he spoke on "The Significance of Menno Simons." On March 19 he spoke in Chapel on "Youth in Modern Russia."

The mission study committee of the Y. P. C. Associations, instead of conducting weekly study groups in missions this semester as before, arranged for a special student conference on Missions. The three sessions of the conference were held on April 2 to 4. At the opening session on Friday evening, Professor Guy F. Hershberger of the college faculty spoke, and S. J. Hostetler 18, missionary on furlough from India, gave the addresses at the two succeeding sessions and preached a missionary sermon at the regular Sunday morning service.

The fifty-five members of the chorus directed by Professor Walter E. Yoder 33 made a tour of Illinois and Iowa during the spring vacation, April 9-19. Their repertoire included thirty-six numbers exclusive of the quartet numbers of the College quartet. The itinerary called for stops at the following Illinois points: Fisher, Flanagan, Peoria, Pleasant Hill, Morton, Hopedale, Metamora, Roanoke, Tiskilwa, Sterling, Freeport, and Chicago; and Manson, Wayland, South English and Kalona, Iowa. The chorus gave a concert in the Goshen High School auditorium on April 27, and a vesper program in the College Assembly Hall on Sunday, May 2.

Professor Guy F. Hershberger attended the annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Historical Association in St. Louis, Missouri, April 29 to May 1.

PEACE WORK AMONG THE COLLEGE FACULTY

A number of the College faculty are actively engaged in peace work of various kinds, working individually, or through the College Peace Society or the Peace Problems Committee of the Mennonite Church. Dean Harold S. Bender is chairman of the Peace Problems committee and plays an important part in directing its work. Orie O. Miller of the College administration has for a long time served as secretary of the same committee.

Mr. Miller is also a member of the continuation committee which directs the co-operative work of the Historic Peace Churches. It was this organization which delegated peace deputations of Friends, Brethren, and Mennonites to bring messages of peace to the Methodist General Conference and the Reformed Presbyterian General Assembly a year ago. Dean Bender was a member of the former deputation and Professor Guy F. Hershberger of the latter. In February, 1937, C. L. Graber, business manager of the College, was a member of a similar delegation which visited President Roosevelt for a presentation of the views of the three peace churches.

On April 17 and 18 the Illinois churches held two peace conferences, one at Flanagan and the other at Sterling. These conferences were planned with the help of Professor Hershberger and the Peace Society of the College. Speakers at the conferences were Guy F. Hershberger, H. S. Bender, M. C. Lehman, and President Yoder. On the evening of April 18 a similar meeting was held at the Chicago Mission Church with C. L. Graber as speaker.

Professor Guy F. Hershberger, who is chairman of the board of directors of the College Peace Society, and Professor Edward Yoder are particularly interested in writing on the peace question. Dr. Yoder contributes several pages each quarter to the doctrinal supplement of the Gospel Herald. This is done under the auspices of the Peace Problems Committee. Dr. Hershberger contributes a page monthly to the Youth's Christian Companion.

The Peace Problems Committee recently published a forty-eight page brochure by Dr. Hershberger entitled Nonresistance and the State. This was printed in an edition of 3500 copies for distribution throughout the Church. The pamphlet gives an account of the Pennsylvania Quaker Experiment in Politics, 1682-1756. The same material in a slightly different form appeared in an article in the October, 1936, issue of the Mennonite Quarterly Review. A condensation of this article appeared in the March, 1937, Religious Digest.

The Social Science Research Council has recently awarded Dr. Hershberger a grant-in-aid to enable him to extend his researches on Quaker Pacifism in Pennsylvania. He plans to spend the entire summer in Philadelphia working on this project and hopes to publish a book on the subject during the next year.

Dr. Hershberger with the help of the Peace Problems Committee and the College Peace Society is also gathering the documentary material dealing with the history of the Mennonites in the World War. It is his plan to write a book dealing with this subject in the near future. In addition to this the Peace Problems Committee has appointed Dr. Hershberger to prepare a small book on nonresistance and peace for use in study classes by the young people of the Mennonite Church.

ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER

The ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER of the Goshen College Alumni Association is printed six times a year as the January, March, May, July, September and November numbers of the Goshen College Bulletin.

EDITOR ..... John Umble, 01 and 05
ADVISORY COMMITTEE OF ASSOCIATE EDITORS:
M. C. Lehman, 04, chairman
O. O. Miller, 15 Melvin Gingrich, 26

Entered as second class matter November 17, 1924, at the postoffice at Goshen, Indiana, under Act of August 24, 1912. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Sec. 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized November 1, 1924.

EDITOR'S CHAT

EVERY ALUMNUS A CONTRIBUTOR EVERY YEAR.

Some of you are still holding Subscription Cards. Please hand them to your Regional Director or send them to this office before June 1, if possible.

Commencement—June 4-7. Alumni Day, June 5. Present indications are for a record-breaking attendance at the annual banquet Saturday evening, June 5. Holding the business meeting at 2:00 P. M. should shorten the evening session more than an hour by relieving it of merely routine matters.

Remember that there is one place where the Goshen College alumnus is sure not to be asked for money. That is on the campus of his Alma Mater. Campus visits are held sacred for fellowship. The officers of your alumni association are behind the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan one hundred per cent. If they have not asked you to donate ten dollars a year for the next five years, it is because they do not know where you live. But if they have missed you, they will not take advantage of your visit to the campus to ask you personally for a contribution during your visit.

The editor of the NEWS-LETTER has a "crow to pick"—not with anyone in particular—but on general principles. He is not discouraged, he is not complaining, he is not threatening to resign, but he craves sympathy. He has a hard job. He does not pretend that it is a thankless job, because many of you express appreciation for the visits of the NEWS-LETTER. But, although you enjoy reading of the successes of your classmates and of the members of other classes, you are so extremely modest that the editor must resort to all kinds of roundabout methods to learn of your own particular activities and promotions. He scans a half dozen dailies, several weeklies, and a dozen church periodicals trying to gather interesting news and, like as not, as soon as the NEWS-LETTER is mailed, he begins to receive protests like the following: "I just received the NEWS-LETTER, laid everything else aside to read it through without stopping, and I enjoyed every bit of it except the item about me. I am still too much of a Mennonite to enjoy blowing my own horn even in the third person." Part of this is an actual quotation. It is not fiction, but fact.

Recently in conversation with an alumna who is rendering a fine service in her community in a nearby city through teaching a Neighborhood Bible Class of young mothers, the editor was impressed by the power and beauty of such a testimony and he jotted down a few notes. Imagine his disappointment on receiving, a few hours later, a letter from this alumna requesting that no mention be made in the NEWS-LETTER of her work! The letter was postmarked "Goshen!" Even before she left the city, the significance of the editor's note-taking had dawned upon her, and she had hastened to deprive the readers of the NEWS-LETTER of an excellent item!

Like "Andrew H. Brown," "I'se regusted!" No, I am not. I admire this spirit. It is highly commendable. But how, we ask you, is an editor to produce a NEWS-LETTER without writing NEWS?

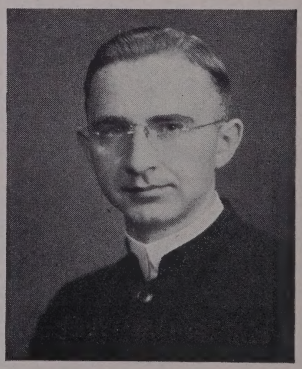
Well, at any rate, we have picked the crow.

FACULTY CHANGES FOR 1937-1938

Professor Willard Smith 28 M.A., who has been in residence at Indiana University will return to the campus to teach courses in history, political science and economics. He has completed the residence requirements for the Ph.D. and will finish writing his doctor's dissertation next year.

Willard Smith

Paul E. Mininger 34 who was granted the M.A. degree by the University of Pennsylvania, will teach education courses half-time and Bible courses half-time beginning in September. He has done about two years' work in advance of the master's degree. He holds the B.D. degree from Kansas City Seminary.



Paul E. Mininger

Dr. Harold Hartzler, who has been professor of physics and mathematics and dean of men at Elizabethtown College, Elizabethtown, Pa., has accepted a position as professor of mathematics at Goshen College and will begin his work at the College in September of this year. Dr. Hartzler received the B.A. degree at Juniata College and the Ph.D. at Rutgers University in 1935. His father was the late Preacher J. M. Hartzler who was graduated from the Latin-Scientific course at the Elkhart Institute in 1903. Dr. Hartzler is married and has two children.

Other changes are calculated to relieve Mrs. McFarland, head of the commercial department, of part of her teaching load. Miss Lois Winey, assistant to the business manager, will teach one of the courses in shorthand and Retha Hostetler, secretary to the Dean, will teach one course in typing.

FIELD WORKER FOR GOSHEN COLLEGE

President Sanford Calvin Yoder

In my report to the Board of Education last February appreciation was expressed for the loyal support which the Church and her young people have given the College and for the faithful service which the Board of Education and faculty have rendered. In this article I want to repeat my appreciation for the loyalty and support of all these groups. We are workers together in an important cause.

While we have all the foregoing reasons for which to be thankful it is needless to say that during the past years we were also confronted with serious problems. Of these, perhaps the most trying one was that of finances. However, with the co-operation of the Church, the faculty, the students, and the Education Board, we were able to improve the financial standing of the school even during the depression years. But the greatest share of the burden fell upon the teachers and it was due primarily to their co-operation that the College was able for the past five years to operate on a balanced budget. During this period the teachers received only what was left after all other bills were paid, and they had but little assurance that the balance of their allowance could ever be paid.

Such emergency policy, however, cannot be permanent and many brethren throughout the Church feel that with the improvement in economic conditions this uncertainty should be corrected. In response to this demand the administration of the College has carefully studied the situation and has mapped out its program on a three point basis of rigid economy in operation, reduced credit to students, and an annual appeal to the constituency for support.

For some years past the administration has urged the need of securing the services of a brother who could give the major part of his time to the task of representing the needs of the school to the Church and of soliciting from the Church the support needed to make the school efficient in every way. To meet this need the office of Field Secretary was created, and we are glad to announce that Brother I. E. Burkhart has accepted the appointment to this office. He is well known throughout the constituency from which the College draws its support. He is also familiar with the needs and problems within the school. He has been appointed to represent the needs of the institution to the Church and to receive contributions intended for Goshen College. The Board of Education and the College trust that Brother Burkhart may receive the support of the ministry and the Church wherever he may be led to present the cause. The cause he represents is not his but it belongs to the Church which brought the College into existence and seeks to perpetuate it for the education of her youth and for the welfare of the Church.

For the past eight years Brother Burkhart taught Bible at Hesston and Goshen Colleges, five years at the former and three years at the latter place. He has also had a wide experience in other lines of Church work such as revival meetings, Bible conferences, work on committees connected with district conferences, with the Mission Board, and with the General Conference. The school not only hopes that he may be successful in soliciting the financial support needed, but also that he, and all other members of the faculty, may continue to render an ever-increasing spiritual service to the Church and her young people.

In the last year substantial sums have come to the College in the form of annuities and bequests. This is a desirable form of giving and many people who love the Church and her young people may help in a very effective way by remembering the College in their wills. Brother Burkhart or any of the officials of the College will be pleased to render any assistance possible in this respect.

The successful Christian college must be successful financially in order that in a larger way she may render educational and spiritual service that will abide when other things decay. To this end we invite the Church to give, to pray, and to advise.

NEW ELEMENTARY TRAINING COURSE

Ever since the establishment of Goshen College as the Elkhart Institute in 1894, teacher training has been one of its chief functions.

When the college was moved to Goshen in 1903, it was possible to secure a license to teach in the rural schools of the state by passing the state examinations. Anyone could take the examinations who had completed the four-year high school, and who had taken twelve weeks of specified training in college.

Gradually the academic requirements were raised to include twenty-four weeks, and later one year of training. In 1923 it became mandatory to secure two full years of exactly outlined educational work before it was possible to secure a license to teach in the rural schools, or in the city elementary schools of the state. This law is still the teacher education law of Indiana.

At the meeting of the Indiana State Board of Education on April 2, 1937 a pattern outline for a four-year elementary teacher education curriculum was adopted. The faculty meeting on April 22, 1937 adapted the state outline to the semester plan of Goshen College. This will be presented to the State Board for approval at its May meeting.

The new plan differs from the curriculum of 1923 in its plan of having the work consist in extensive courses outlining a general and liberal education in English, social science, and biological science. Orientation work of a less extensive nature is outlined during the first two years in such fields as physical science, contemporary civilization, music, art, psychology, health, physical education and general mathematics.

General professional courses as well as professionalized subject matter and special methods courses are for the most part left till the junior and senior years. Special opportunity for classroom participation through observation and supervised teaching is given during the senior year.

This course increases the opportunity of Goshen College to aid in teacher education service. It will mean the addition of a number of different college subjects to those already being taught. Several orientation courses of a general liberal arts type not previously given will need to be offered. A few substitutions are being made in the general education courses needed.

The entering class in September, 1937 is the last class which may secure a license on the two-year plan. After 1940 no licenses are to be issued except on the completion of the regularly outlined four-year course leading to a degree.

CHRISTIAN LIFE CONFERENCE

The annual Christian Life Conference was held February 12-14. Bishop A. J. Steiner was moderator and Professor Walter E. Yoder, chorister. The conference theme was "Christian Holiness." Speakers on the program included John C. Wenger 34, Telford, Pa.; Bishop C. F. Derstine, Kitchener, Ontario; Bishop A. J. Metzler, Scottdale, Pa.; J. N. Kaufman 17, Peoria, Illinois; Bishop Aaron Mast, Belleville, Pa.; Ira Johns x01, Goshen; Bishop S. F. Coffman, Vineland, Ontario; J. D. Mininger, Kansas City, Kansas. Assembly Hall was too small to accommodate the crowds.

MINISTER'S WEEK

The Annual Minister's Week extended over February 10-12 with six sessions daily. Bishop Edwin J. Yoder x08, of Topeka, Indiana, was moderator and Bishop A. J. Metzler had charge of the devotional periods. Speakers and leaders of discussion periods included J. B. Smith, A. J. Metzler, C. F. Derstine, J. N. Kaufman, Aaron Mast and C. F. Yake. Preceding Minister's Week the College offered a Minister's Study Course, February 1-9, including daily Bible Study periods conducted by Bishop D. A. Yoder x08, of Elkhart, and President Sanford C. Yoder, a daily discussion, "How to Prepare Sermons," led by Professor I. E. Burkhart 26, and daily instruction on special subjects presented by J. K. Bixler, J. S. Hartzler, D. D. Troyer, D. D. Miller, Oscar Hostetler, Edwin Yoder, and Tobe Schrock.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S INSTITUTE

Goshen College will be host to another young people's institute from June 30 to July 4, 1937. The program is now in the hands of the printer and will be mailed to anyone desiring a copy. Out of state speakers are C. F. Derstine, Ontario; Elvin Snyder, South America; Milo Kauffman, Kansas; Warren Long, Illinois; Indiana-Michigan speakers and leaders are Homer North, Virgil Weaver, Sherman Maust. College faculty members who will assist are H. S. Bender, Mrs. H. S. Bender, Walter E. Yoder, Glen R. Miller, and I. E. Burkhart. Glen Miller will direct the recreation features and will be assisted by Titus Metzler and Lowell Hershberger both of Nappanee, and Ruth Buzzard of Elkhart.

The program is designed especially for young people. An effort is made to present class and platform material from the standpoint of youth. Freedom of discussion is encouraged. Some provision is also made for a period of quiet and fellowship each afternoon. During that time there will be no class exercises. This period will be followed by social and recreation activities. Further information will be gladly furnished by

I. E. Burkhart, Director

Goshen, Indiana

Y. M. AND Y. W.

Waldo Lehman 38 has been elected president of the Young People's Christian Association. He is the only son of Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Lehman 04 (Lydia Liechty 05). The other officers of the Christian association for the young men are: Secy., Charles Neff, Chicago; Treas., Maurice Burkholder, Nampa, Idaho. The chairmen of the committees are as follows: devotional, Leland Bachman, Morton, Illinois; extension, John Friesen, Dhamtari, India; mission study, Lloyd Conrad, Louisville, Ohio; social, Emanuel Hertzler, Norristown, Pa.; membership, Raymond Yoder, Goshen; church relations, Don Kreider, Wadsworth, Ohio; Bible study, Frank Byler, West Liberty, Ohio.

For the young women's organization the officers are: Pres., Ruth King, West Liberty, Ohio; Secy., Marjorie Yoder, Bellefontaine, Ohio; Treas., Alta Good, Rantoul, Illinois. The chairmen of committees for the women are: devotional, Lois Yoder, Hubbard, Oregon; extension, Ruth Duerksen, Kingman, Kansas; mission study, Ethel Yordy, Eureka, Illinois; social, Winifred Nelson, Newaygo, Michigan; membership, Myrtle Schnell, Orrville, Ohio; church relations, Genevieve Yoder, Topeka, Indiana; Bible Study, Thelma Oyer, Roanoke, Illinois.

SPRING TERM

The spring term at Goshen College, if one is to judge from the increasing enrollment, seems to be meeting a real need. This year thirty-four students are registered in one or more courses. Students may earn six semester hours credit during the six weeks beginning April 26 and ending June 5. The Spring Term serves rural school teachers who are working toward a degree, teachers who are renewing their permits, and those who are meeting the demands of their trustee that they "keep alive by taking more school work." Courses are offered in Teaching of Reading, American History, Birds, The Teaching of Geography and History, School Management, Social Problems, and Victorian Poetry. Regular instructors teach most of the courses. Special instructors employed for the Spring Term are Mrs. Glen R. Miller, M.A., and Mr. Perry J. Miller, M.A., principal of the Honeyville Schools in Eden township, La Grange county.

Following is a list of the Spring Term students: Inez Anglin, Milford; Orin Beechy, Berlin, Ohio; Bessie Burris, Milford; Frank Byler, West Liberty, Ohio; Trella Caris, Milford; Irma Eash, Shipshewana; Mary Feeser, Elkhart; LeRoy Garberich, Milford; Grace Glick, Sugar Creek, Ohio; Martha Groves, Milford; Paul Guengerich, Kalona, Iowa; G. A. Haberstich, Goshen; Inez Hauder, Goshen; Dora Hershberger, Shipshewana; Lloyd Hess, Goshen; Shirley Holoway, Nappanee; Warren Holdeman, Wakarusa; Joy Hooley, Ligonier; Elda Hostetler, Harper, Kansas; Mary Hurd, Milford; Ralph Kline, Millersburg; Eloise Klink, Syracuse; Clyde Miller, Springs, Pa.; Harold Miller, Springs, Pa.; Agnes Nafziger, Hopedale, Illinois; Eugene Raber, Sugar Creek, Ohio; Mrs. Helen Schnell, Goshen; Russell Schnell, Goshen; Frances Schrock, Lowpoint, Illinois; Florence Troyer, Converse; LeRoy Yoder, Goshen; Barbara Zook, Goshen; Bernice Zook, Goshen; Dorothy Zook, Goshen.

SUMMER SCHOOL

The 1937 Goshen College Summer Session begins Tuesday, June 8, and ends Saturday, August 7. Dr. Silas Hertzler is director. Regular instructors who will offer courses include Professors Witmer, Umble, Hershberger, Miller, Paul Bender, M. C. Lehman, and Hartzler. Mr. Ralph Beechy, M.A., has been engaged as special instructor in elementary education. The offering includes courses in Bible, biological sciences, elementary education, tests and measurements, speech, English and American Literature, European, American and contemporary history, civics, mathematics of finance, public school music, introduction to philosophy, and educational psychology. The inclusive general fee for resident students for the nine weeks term (nine semester hours) is one hundred dollars. This fee includes tuition, board, room and all regular fees. Rooms will be reserved in Coffman Hall for men or Kulp Hall for women on receipt of a deposit of two dollars to be applied on room rent.

Goshen is a quiet little city located in the heart of the northern Indiana lake district and is admirably situated for a summer of study, rest, and recreation. The student body conducts a strong program of religious, literary, and recreational activities and publishes a magazine during the Summer Session.

DEBATING

The freshman teams won both of their annual tilts with the sophomores this year. The members of the winning teams were—Freshman Affirmative: Clifford Yoder, Columbiana, Ohio; Robert Walter, Goshen; and Virgil Gerig, Smithville, Ohio;—Freshman Negative: Richard Culp, Goshen; Orville Roth, San Antonio, Texas; and Dorsey Eash, Belleville, Pa.

In intercollegiate debating the Affirmative team, Dwight Yoder, of West Liberty, Ohio, and Waldo Lehman, of Goshen, won three debates and lost three at the Manchester tournament. The Negative team, Don Kreider, of Wadsworth, Ohio, and Emanuel Hertzler, of Norristown, Pa., won two and lost four.

The post-tournament debates included a home-and-home debate with Marion, a dual debate with Taylor at Goshen, a Goshen debate with Anderson's negative and a dual, nondecision debate with Butler University at Goshen. Goshen won all of the decision debates except one. The Goshen affirmative lost to Marion at Marion. Dwight Yoder, a four-year debater is the only senior on the squad. Waldo Lehman won the debating "G." Dwight Yoder 38, Don Kreider 37, Emanuel Hertzler 37 are all three-stripe sweater-men with the debating "G."

The Varsity completed the season with an exhibition debate before the Goshen Rotary Club on April 26.

LIFE OF PETER S. HARTMAN

Alumni will be interested in a seventy-three page book by H. A. Brunk, of Harrisonburg, Va. This biography of the late Peter S. Hartman, whose Civil War reminiscences have entertained and inspired many young people, may be ordered from the author. The retail price is forty-five cents bound in paper, sixty-five cents in cloth.

STUDIES IN MENNONITE CITY MISSIONS

Mrs. Paul Erb (Alta Mae Eby 12) has written a book on the origin and activities of Mennonite City Missions. The book is designed primarily for the use of Mission study classes, but the general reader, also, will find it illuminating, even fascinating. The book contains two hundred twenty-four pages with forty-three illustrations. It may be had in two bindings—durable paper, fifty cents; attractive cloth, seventy-five. It is published by the Mennonite Publishing House, Scottdale, Pa.

HOLDEMAN FAMILY HISTORY

Edwin L. Weaver 25, of Wakarusa, Indiana, has completed his genealogical study of the descendants of Christian Haldeman. The name Haldeman has been changed to Holdeman in Indiana and other western states. Mr. Weaver's book, to be called "The Descendants of Christian (Haldeman) Holdeman, 1788-1846," is now in press. It is being printed by the E. V. Publishing Company, at Nappanee, Indiana, and will be ready for distribution about July 1.

HISTORY OF FRANCONIA CONFERENCE

During the past year and a half John C. Wenger 34 has been writing his "History of the Mennonites of the Franconia Conference" and the volume will probably go on sale before this issue of the NEWS-LETTER reaches its readers. Two years ago while Mr. Wenger was engaged in graduate study at the Westminster Theological Seminary in Philadelphia the Franconia Conference asked him to postpone his second year of graduate study in order to compile and edit the historical material collected by John D. Sauder and to complete the task of gathering and writing a comprehensive history of the conference district. This book is the result. A large number of alumni should find the book useful and interesting. It has over thirty pages of illustrations and five hundred pages in all. Anyone wishing information about the book may write to John D. Sauder, Telford, Pa., the president of the Franconia Mennonite Historical Society.

WEDDING BELLS

Ned Tarman x34, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tarman, of New Paris, Indiana, and Jane Clark, daughter of Lake Clark, of Warsaw, were married on December 24, 1936, at Crown Point, Indiana. Mr. and Mrs. Tarman reside in their newly furnished apartment on East Washington Street in Warsaw. Mr. Tarman and his brother, Leland, are proprietors of the Tarman Food Store in New Paris.

Leonard Yoder, son of Rev. Allen Yoder, retired pastor of the Silver Street Mennonite Church east of Goshen, and Pauline Phillips x38, daughter of L. S. Phillips, east of Goshen, were united in marriage at the Rock Run Church of the Brethren on December 27, the father of the bridegroom officiating. The bride took the first year of elementary teacher training at Goshen College, the second at Manchester College and has been a teacher in the Clinton Community school. Mr. Yoder attended Bluffton College. They will reside at La Crosse, Indiana.

On March 27, Floyd Beyeler and Martha E. Rohrer x34, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Rohrer, of Orrville, Ohio, were united in marriage, Bishop J. S. Gerig officiating. Mrs. Beyeler has been teaching a rural school in Wayne County.

On Sunday, March 28, Cornelius W. Reuter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Reuter, of Milford, Indiana, and Lois E. Christophel x39, daughter of John B. Christophel, southwest of Goshen, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's father, the uncle of the bride, Rev. Ezra Mullet, of Nappanee, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Reuter attend the Yellow Creek Mennonite Church where Mrs. Reuter holds her membership.

John C. Wenger 34, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Martin Wenger, of Lincoln Avenue, Telford, Pa., and Ruth D. Detweiler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Detweiler, of Telford, were united in marriage on April 3 at the home of Rev. Wilson R. Moyer, an uncle of the bride. Mrs. Wenger was graduated from the academy of Eastern Mennonite School at Harrisonburg Va., in 1928 and received the R. N. degree from Grandview Hospital in Sellersville, Pa., in 1931. She did graduate work in obstetrics at Sloane Hospital, New York City, and has served as instructress in practical nursing at the Mt. Holly (N. J.) Hospital. Mrs. Wenger plans to continue her work in the latter position for the present. Mr. Wenger sailed for Europe on April 11. He will continue work toward the degree, doctor of theology, at the University of Zurich, Switzerland. Mrs. Wenger will join him later, and they plan to return to America in the summer of 1938.

On April 20, Guy M. Hamilton, son of Mrs. Stella Hamilton, of Moulton, Iowa, and Lois Elizabeth Markel x38, daughter of former State Senator Orrin H. Markel, of Oakland Avenue, Elkhart, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's father, the Rev. E. R. Garrison of St. Paul's Methodist Church officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton will make their home in Ottumwa, Iowa, where Mr. Hamilton is employed in the postal service.

The marriage of Herbert H. Adams 35, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Adams, of Goshen, and Hope Elizabeth Stutzman 34, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Stutzman of Washington, D. C., is announced to take place in June.

On January 1, Robert Zarske x40, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Zarske of 6467 Hartwell, Dearborn, Michigan, and Martha Plank x37, daughter of Deacon and Mrs. David E. Plank, of Mt. Crawford, Va., formerly of Eureka, Illinois, were united in marriage at the home of the groom's parents, the Rev. Gustav H. Enss, formerly of the College faculty and now pastor of the Ebenezer Baptist Church in Detroit, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Zarske are at home in Dearborn where Mr. Zarske is employed by the Ford Motor Company.

CHICAGO BRANCH

The twenty-ninth annual dinner and program of the Chicago Branch of the Goshen College Alumni Association was held on Saturday evening, April 17, in the beautiful tea room of the McCormick Y. M. C. A. in Chicago. About fifty alumni were present. After a bountiful, nicely served dinner and a brief business session came a well-arranged, delightfully-rendered program. Edith King 40 opened the program with piano selections. "The Airmasters," John Thut 23 and two other instructors from the American Conservatory of Music, sang several groups. C. L. Graber, business manager of the College, gave the address of the evening, speaking on the subject, "The Advantages of the Handicaps of the Small College." Levi C. Hartzler, Regional Director for the Chicago area, explained the purpose and operation of the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan. At the close of the meeting the president-elect, Professor J. M. Kurtz, made a stirring appeal to all those present to support the College in its program to gain admission into the North Central Association. The remainder of the evening was spent in renewing old acquaintances and forming new ones. The editor of the NEWS-LETTER was fortunate enough to be invited to accompany C. L. Graber to Chicago and to have the privilege of enjoying the evening with the Chicago alumni. This he did in full measure.

The officers for the past year to whom goes the credit for the delightful reunion were: Dr. Elmer M. Landis x23, of Gary, president; Mrs. Charles S. Morse, of Chicago, vice-president; and Mary Jane Thornton 15 29, of Chicago, secretary-treasurer. The officers for the year 1937-38 are: Professor Jonathan M. Snyder, of rural route one, Hespeler, Ontario, should be Regional Director for Ontario. He agreed to accept the task provided J. C. Fretz, formerly of Baden, now of Kitchener, would assist him. They are covering the territory as other duties permit and are sending in encouraging reports.

Dr. J. E. Hartzler 04 has speedily regained his former robust health since his serious illness due to appendicitis. Dr. Hartzler finds his work at Hartford Theological Seminary very congenial. He is teaching Philosophy and Christian Ethics. Eight Mennonites are students and doing well. The group is large enough and good enough to attract attention. Dr. and Mrs. Hartzler reside at 99 Sherman Street, Hartford, Connecticut.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hess 06 (Miss Anna Coffman, former instructress) remembered the College with a very fine shipment of dehydrated sweet corn in February for use in the College dining hall. This is their way of meeting the challenge "Every Alumnus a Contributor Every Year." Their annual gift is always greatly appreciated. Mr. and Mrs. Hess, proprietors of Keewaydin Farm, specialize in dehydrated corn and pork and dairy products.

Bishop T. K. Hershey 10, temporarily located in Texas to establish mission work among the Mexicans, is recovering from his illness reported in the January issue of the NEWS-LETTER, but is still far from well.

The gall stones have disappeared, but he suffers from colitis.

Mrs. George Bishop (Verna Smith 34) of Doylestown, Pa., is continuing her work in piano and is also giving lessons. Since February she has been concentrating on her spring recital to be given in June.

Harley Hunsicker 31, of Blooming Glen, Pa., is completing his last year at the Temple University School of Chiropody. Early in the year he was elected superintendent of the Blooming Glen Sunday school.

Dr. Orie J. Eigsti 31 who has been employed at the Carnegie Institute in Cold Harbor, Long Island, stopped on the campus during the first week in May on his way to Ripon, Wisconsin, where he has a new position as research technician with Triarch Botanical Products. He will begin his work at Ripon on June 1. The December, 1936, issue of the Botanical Gazette published Dr. Eigsti's article entitled, "Chromosome Studies in the Resedaceae." At the winter meeting of the A. A. A. S. at Atlantic City he presented a paper, "Studies on the Genetics of Reseda Species," before the Genetics section. The methods and technique derived for the preparation of this material are published in the April issue of "Stain Technology." Dr. and Mrs. Eigsti will spend a few weeks at the former's old home in Illinois before going on to Wisconsin. Dr. Eigsti gave a lecture on "Recent Developments in the Study of Heredity" in Aurora Hall on May 5 and delivered an address in Chapel on May 7.

Wilbur J. Bender, of 234 Main Street, Andover, Mass., instructor in Phillips Exeter Academy, stopped in Goshen over a recent week-end. He was making a tour of the Central States in connection with his duties as visitor of scholarship prospects for Harvard University.

Dr. Ernst Correll, former instructor in German and economics at Goshen College, retains his spirit of warm friendliness toward the institution. Dr. Correll is Associate Professor of Economic History in the Graduate School of Social Studies of the American University, 1901 F. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Lilly Esch, of 756 Colorado Boulevard, Denver, Colorado, greatly enjoys her work as a staff nurse in the Colorado Psychopathic hospital in Denver.

Glen Hershberger 23 formerly located at Chicago, has for the past several weeks been employed in Washington D. C., standardizing annual requisitions and replacements for airways radio stations under the Department of Commerce. He returned to Goshen early in May, where Mrs. Hershberger (Dula Roth 29) and Grace Ellen have been making their temporary residence with Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Roth.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren King x31 formerly of West Liberty, Ohio, have moved to Kingscreek, Ohio. Their address is rural route three, Urbana, Ohio. Until recently Mr. King owned the Kingscreek Mill in partnership with his brothers but purchased his brothers' interest in the mills about April 1 and will now devote all his time to the milling business.

Mrs. John C. Powell (Anna Hostetler x17, daughter of the late C. K. Hostetler, former business manager of the Elkhart Institute and Goshen College) finds the NEWS-LETTER most interesting in spite of the many years which have passed since she was last in Goshen. All her married life Mrs. Powell has lived in Birmingham, Alabama, where her husband is connected with the city schools. They have three children who give Mrs. Powell a full-time job at home.

Rhoda M. Ressler 35, of 1121 Walnut Street, Wilkinsburg, Pa., when sending in her check for the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan, writes "Spring's in the air, but it's so smoke-laden that I've been chanting 'Give me back one day in Goshen, for it's spring in Goshen now.'"

Frank B. Raber 29, superintendent of the Detroit Mennonite Mission and Regional Director for Detroit, pleasantly surprised the editor of the NEWS-LETTER and his family, by dropping in with his fine little daughter recently at dinner time to report on his work as Regional Director. He brought a small handful of checks, bills and subscription cards for the Alumni Division.

Several members of the Alumni Association are members of the group which is building a new church building at Kidron, Ohio. We are indebted to Idella Zuercher 36 of Dalton, Ohio, for the information that the new structure is to cost $15,000 and that $14,000 was subscribed in four weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellrose D. Zook 33 (Frances Loucks x31) live at 500 George Street, Scottdale, Pa.

On April 23, Dr. Orus Ray Yoder, Assistant Medical Superintendent of the Ypsilanti State Hospital, Ypsilanti, Michigan, delivered his lecture on "Mental Moratoriums" in Assembly Hall as a regular number of the College Lecture Course. And say, if any of you school administrators want a worth while lecture full of sound, wholesome advice, pleasantly spiced with humor, call on Dr. Yoder!

Mervin G. Hostetler 23, superintendent of the Middlebury public schools for the past three years, resigned his position during the last week in April. Mr. and Mrs. Hostetler (Ruth R. Lantz x26) acquired a one-hundred-and-twenty-nine-acre farm near the Oak Grove Church east of Smithville, Ohio, and moved there in May.

Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Gerig 17, member of the secretariat of the League of Nations, recently made a brief business trip to the United States on business for the League. During the latter part of April Dr. Gerig gave several addresses at the College on the League and the nature of its activities. Dr. Gerig speaks enthusiastically of the work of the technical division of the League.

Waldo T. ("Sam") Stalter 27 was elected a member of the board of directors and vice-president of the Rotary Club of Goshen at the last meeting in April. Mr. Stalter sponsors the Freshman Men's Annual Discussion Contest, giving ten dollars in cash prizes to the winners.

Late in 1936 the Rev. G. T. Soldner resigned the pastorate of the Eighth Street Mennonite Church (Central Conference) to become travelling representative of Bluffton College. Rev. A. E. Kreider 15, professor of Bible and director of religious life at Bethel College, Newton, Kansas, accepted a call to the pastorate vacated by Rev. Soldner and is moving to Goshen for the summer, but plans to serve at Bethel College for the next academic year before permanently entering on his duties as pastor of the Eighth Street Church. Since the completion of these arrangements Mrs. Soldner has had a serious illness that has made it impossible for Rev. Soldner to take up his duties at Bluffton College. Ralph Blosser 33 of Goshen, Indiana, has resigned his teaching position in Kentucky to become traveling representative for Bluffton College.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Hire who reside at 3605 Sunnyside, Chicago, attended the April meeting of Goshen College alumni at Chicago. The alumni office had lost their address for several years.

Chauncey H. Duker 16, is located at McHenry, Illinois.

GOSHEN COLLEGE ACCREDITMENT PLAN

Alumni Division

Donations and subscriptions to the Alumni Division continue to arrive at the College business office. A few Regional Directors have not had time to conclude their campaign. But in most sections where any considerable group of alumni reside the first year's work under the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan is completed. In fact most of the work done so far is the direct result of the loyal, self-sacrificing efforts of fifty-odd Regional Directors. Many alumni who live in sections into which only a few members of the Goshen College family have found their way have responded to the letter sent out in January by President Yoder endorsing the program of the Alumni Association and soliciting subscriptions to the Alumni Division. Many more, however, still hold the subscription card. The administrative officials of the College and the officers of the Alumni Association hope that hundreds of others will sign and return the cards before September 1 to join the group of loyal alumni who are supporting this program.

The amount paid in cash has reached nearly $3500. This is at least six times more than the cash paid into the College treasury by alumni in any previous year, and gives cause for rejoicing and congratulation. When one reflects, however, that this sum was contributed by about three hundred and ninety alumni and that more than two thousand have not yet responded, the conviction comes that the campaign is in its beginning. Surely there are more than three hundred and ninety former students and alumni who are grateful to the College and its founders for the inspiration and help gained in "our sacred college halls." Surely, many others are willing to make some small sacrifice that succeeding generations of young people may be surrounded by the same educational advantages which have contributed to their own growth and which have built into their lives an enduring structure of strength, beauty and harmony.

To study the printed list of subscribers to the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan is a thrilling experience. But to run one's eye over the class lists in the 1935 Alumni Directory and to be struck by the names of those who have not responded gives one a different kind of experience. The thought comes, "But where are the nine?" Surely the College has failed, in part, in its mission if very many of its former students and alumni cannot give at least a small amount every year to the institution which has helped them to build their life.

Study the following list. If your name is here, congratulate yourself on being a member of the loyal legion of supporters of your College and your alumni association. If your name is not here, there is still time to send in your subscription card before September 1 and to receive a "Charter Membership Certificate" in the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan.

Following is the list of alumni who have made subscriptions to the Alumni Division of the Accreditment Plan: (We hope that there are no errors or omissions. If you discover any, we shall be glad to make corrections in the next issue of the News Letter.)

AUGUST REUNION

The time for the August Reunion will soon arrive. The standing date for this annual event is the last Sunday in August, which in 1937 falls on August 29. Some of the local alumni and administrative officers of the school will be attending the Mennonite General Conference in Oregon, but a good representation of alumni, old and young, will be present. Bring your lunch basket and remember that these Goshen people eat their meals on Central Daylight Saving Time, one hour faster than Central Standard Time. And it may be well to pack an extra bun or two for the alumnus who comes from a distance and leaves home too early or too hastily to bring a lunch. The local committee will send out the usual notices, but if you fail to receive a card, please consider this notice as your very special and official invitation to be present. Professor Walter E. Yoder 13 33, of 1221 South Eighth Street, and Mrs. John E. Weaver (Elenora Kauffman 09 13), of 623 South Eighth Street, are the committee on arrangements.

ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER

The ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER of the Goshen College Alumni Association is printed six times a year as the January, March, May, July, September and November numbers of the Goshen College Bulletin.

EDITOR ..... John Umble, 01 and 05

Entered as second class matter November 17, 1924, at the postoffice at Goshen, Indiana, under Act of August 24, 1912. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Sec. 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized November 1, 1924.

EDITORIAL CHAT

The NEWS-LETTER has never officially promulgated an editorial policy. It exists primarily to extend the cause of Christ and the Church, especially as Goshen College is a part of the general church program. It is not a propaganda sheet. Its function is to serve the Cause through the dissemination of news. Its work is not primarily educational. It is a newspaper.

The NEWS-LETTER does not make the news. It attempts merely to print such news items about Goshen College and her alumni as come to the attention of the editor and his associates.

The NEWS-LETTER has not boasted, does not and shall not boast of the achievements of alumni. It merely prints the news without comment. The alumni of a college are sure to be interesting people doing interesting worth while things and as members of a college family they have a right to be informed about each other's life and activities. This information should serve as an inspiration to all alumni and to younger people, as well.

The campaign of the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan not yet being completed and not all alumni having had an opportunity to subscribe, this issue of the NEWS-LETTER is going forward to every alumnus whose address is known at the office. As soon as the campaign can be completed, however, the NEWS-LETTER will go regularly only to those who support the program of the Association.

On account of unavoidable delay in the completion of the campaign of the Alumni Division, it has been decided to send a Charter Membership Certificate of the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan to all alumni who send in their subscription before September 1. After that date no Charter Membership Certificate will be issued. Be sure to secure this little token that permanently enrolls you among the faithful members of your Alumni Association and the loyal supporters of Goshen College.

THE SUMMER SESSION

Interest in the Summer Session is excellent. The total enrollment is seventy-seven. Seven regular and four special instructors are offering twenty-five courses. Miss Lydia Shenk, Mrs. H. S. Bender, and Professor B. F. Hartzler are tutoring a number of individual students.

The students are conducting the usual extra-curricular activities including prayer meetings, the Thursday noon devotional meeting, "open house" for both residence halls, and various social and recreational features. Frank Byler 39 was elected general chairman of the Summer Session student organization. Student committees are as follows: religious, Anna Hallman, chairman, Ruth Duerksen, Oswin Gerber and Iola Miller; social, Agnes Nafziger, chairman, Paul Kaufman, Alta Good; athletic, Paul Gingerich, chairman, Dick Brenneman, Wilma Miller; refreshment, Evelyn Brenneman, chairman, Laura Troyer, Glen Springer, Orin Beechy.

The usual summer issue of the Goshen College Record is being printed. Paul Kaufman 37, Peoria, Illinois, has been appointed editor; Louella Troyer 37, of West Liberty, Ohio, associate editor; and Vernon Miller 37, business manager. The Record, well printed and illustrated with new cuts, will appear about August 1. Copies will be sent to any address for ten cents prepaid.

ANNUAL BUSINESS MEETING

The annual business meeting of the Goshen College Alumni Association was held in Assembly Hall at 2:00 p. m., Saturday, June 5, as announced in the May issue of the NEWS-LETTER. Dr. M. C. Lehman, president of the association, presided. The meeting was opened with prayer led by Dr. S. W. Witmer. Routine business was transacted and considerable time given to reports on the Accreditment Plan.

The following were elected members of the Board of Directors to serve for three years: Miss E. LaVerne Yoder 34, of Goshen; John Umble 01, of Goshen; Dr. S. T. Miller 05, of Elkhart; Dr. M. C. Lehman, 04, of Goshen; Dean H. S. Bender 18, Goshen; Dwight Yoder 37, of Bellefontaine, Ohio.

The director of the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan gave a detailed report of the methods, progress, receipts, and prospects of the Alumni Division.

C. L. Graber, business manager of the College, was invited to speak before the annual meeting relative to the larger program of which the Alumni Division is a part. He reported particularly concerning the actual income of the College for the past twelve months. His figures showed that $7000 had been raised for debt reduction. Individual donors have paid in $2700 for current expenses. This figure will be raised to $3000 by the payment of a large number of small pledges to be paid by September 1. The profit from dormitories, dining hall, and book store will be $10,000. The endowment income is a little over $6,000. His report shows that just as soon as the debt is liquidated so that income from endowment may be used for current expenses instead of paying interest on the debt, the Accreditment Plan will be well under way. I. E. Burkhart, newly appointed Field Secretary, will devote most of his time to the debt reduction program.

Mr. Graber also reported that substantial additions had been made to the Endowment Fund during the past year as follows: C. S. Schertz, Dec. 25, 1936, forty acres of land near Eureka, Illinois, once valued at more than fifteen thousand dollars; Levi Yoder, North Lima, Ohio, by will, $2000 to $4000; and $1000 annuity from a friend in Illinois.

Dean H. S. Bender, sponsor of the Class of 1937, presented the graduates for election as members of the association. The class consists of forty-two college graduates, the largest group in the history of the College, thirty-eight graduates from the Elementary Teacher Training Course and one from the Christian Worker's Course.

The new officers of the Alumni Association are: president, Dr. M. C. Lehman 04; vice-president, Professor Walter E. Yoder 13 33; second vice-president, Elvin Valores Snyder 27, missionary on furlough from South America; secretary, Dr. Silas Hertzler 13; treasurer, C. P. Martin 27. Dr. Silas Hertzler was re-elected a member of the Mennonite Board of Education for four years.

THE ANNUAL REUNION

The largest number of alumni in the history of the Alumni Association gathered in the Dining Hall for the annual reunion on Saturday evening, June 5. The menu and arrangements were in the capable hands of C. P. Martin 27, Miss Olive Wyse 26, and Miss E. LaVerne Yoder 34. After the diners pushed their chairs back from the tables, Dr. M. C. Lehman, president, introduced Dr. Jonathan G. Yoder 27, of North Lima, Ohio, as toastmaster. Toasts were given as follows: Class of 1902, Dr. W. B. Christophel; 1912, Professor A. S. Ebersole; 1914, Mrs. S. W. Witmer (Sana Troyer 12 and 14); 1917, Superintendent C. J. Gerber; 1927, Elvin V. Snyder; 1937, Thelma Hostetler, of Goshen. The toasts were interspersed with music—a violin solo by Justine Enss 37, accompanied by Elinor Smith 36, and several numbers by the "Varsity 4."

The principal address of the evening was delivered by Orie O. Miller 15, who spoke in a highly informing way of his trip to South America last winter. Mrs. Miller (Elta Wolf 12) was also present. Their daughter Lois was a member of the graduating class. Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Wolf, of Akron, Pa., also were among the guests.

SUMMER ACTIVITIES OF THE GOSHEN COLLEGE FACULTY

During the first week in June President Sanford Calvin Yoder attended the meetings of the Indiana-Michigan conference and delivered an address before the mission section. Since the close of the school year, President Yoder attended the annual meeting of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities held near West Liberty, Ohio, June 13-15. He was re-elected secretary of the organization for another year. On Sunday, June 20, he preached at Elkhart at the morning service and spoke at the afternoon and evening sessions of the mission meeting at the same place. He left for western Nebraska and Colorado on June 25, where he spent some time at La Junta in the interest of the Hospital. Upon his return he attended a meeting of the Executive and Mission Committees at Elkhart, Indiana, on July 2.

Dean Harold S. Bender attended the Annual Meeting of the North Central Association in Chicago April 8-10. He was one of the speakers at the Peace Conference held at the Mennonite Church at Sterling, Illinois, April 16-18. He gave the Commencement address at the Osolo School north of Elkhart on Tuesday evening, April 27. He served on the staff of instructors at the Mennonite Young People's Institute at Walnut Creek, Ohio, June 17-20; Goshen, Indiana, June 30-July 4; and Johnstown, Pa., July 7-18. He spoke at the regular Sunday morning service at the Leo Mennonite Church, Leo, Indiana, June 27. During the third and fourth weeks of June he spent some time in Ohio soliciting students for the college, and spent the last two weeks in July in the field for the college in Pennsylvania and Maryland. He and Orie Miller 15, were two of the three members of the Relief Committee re-elected at the recent meeting of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities at West Liberty, Ohio.

C. L. Graber, business manager, is spending considerable time in the office this summer doing routine work and organizing the financial campaign which includes debt reduction, donations looking toward accreditment, and a building program. Mr. Graber attended the annual meeting of the Mission Board at West Liberty, Ohio in June. He was elected one of eight members-at-large on the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. He spoke on the program of the annual Mission Board meeting on "How to Meet World Conditions by our Peace Testimony." In August he is to speak at the Mennonite General Conference in Oregon on "The Bible Teaching on Peace, War, and Non-Resistance."

D. A. Lehman, professor emeritus, is spending the summer on the campus reading and studying. His excellent health is partially due, without doubt, to the perfect cooking of Mrs. M. C. Lehman (Lydia Liechty, 05). Professor Lehman is rooming and boarding with Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Lehman who occupy the upstairs apartments of the Mrs. Siddie Oyer home at the corner of Eighth Street and College Avenue.

Dr. Silas Hertzler 13, Director of the Summer Session, is busy with administrative, teaching and placement bureau activities. He has succeeded in finding teaching positions for an unusually large percentage of the members of the class of 1937 and others. Dr. and Mrs. Hertzler and family attended the Mission Board meeting at West Liberty, Ohio, in June. The June 10 issue of the Gospel Herald printed a "History of the Church at Long Green, Maryland," contributed by Dr. Hertzler.

Dr. S. W. Witmer 14, Professor Umble 01, and Dr. Glen Miller are teaching in the Summer Session.

Dr. Guy F. Hershberger, husband of Clara Hooley 17, is spending the summer in the East with his family, engaged in research, principally at the library of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania. The Social Science Research Council with headquarters in New York has awarded Professor Hershberger a grant-in-aid to assist him in the completion of his book on "Quaker Pacifism and the Provincial Government of Pennsylvania." Dr. Hershberger attended the annual convention of the Mississippi Valley Historical Society at St. Louis, Missouri, on May 1.

Dr. Edward Yoder is dividing his time between Goshen, Indiana and Scottdale, Pa., this summer. Dr. Yoder's editorial duties in connection with the Advanced Sunday School Lesson Quarterly and the Peace Section of the Gospel Herald occasionally require his presence at Scottdale.

Dr. Paul Bender, registrar and director of personnel, is registered in the University of Chicago for courses in college administration and personnel work. He is usually at home over week-ends to perform his duties as assistant superintendent of the College Sunday school.

I. E. Burkhart, Field Secretary for Goshen College spent two weeks in Michigan, June 13-27 in soliciting funds for the College. He visited the White Cloud, Chief, Clarkesville, Ashley, Turner, Midland, and Vestaburg Churches. In the church at Chief, Brother Burkhart remained for one week giving evening lectures on Old Testament tabernacle and sacrifices and their fulfillment in Christ as portrayed in the New Testament. He reports that contributions to the College run slightly higher than last year. This is due in part, he thinks, to the improvement in employment and the rise in prices. He returned to the College on June 28 to make final arrangements for Young People's Institute held June 30-July 4 and served as director of the Institute.

Professors Willard H. Smith 28 and Samuel A. Yoder 28 are in residence at Indiana University. The former has completed his oral and written finals and is now ready to concentrate on his thesis. The latter has submitted the first draft of his thesis and will probably receive the Ph.D. this fall.

Professor Walter E. Yoder 13 33 is completing the work for his master's degree in music at the Northwestern University School of Music. He is superintendent of the College Sunday School and usually spends his week-ends at home.

Miss Olive Wyse 26 is spending the summer at her home in Kalona, Iowa.

Dr. H. Harold Hartzler, who joins the Goshen College faculty in September as assistant professor of mathematics and astronomy, is teaching at Elizabethtown College, Elizabethtown, Pa., this summer. He will move to Goshen with his family in September.

Miss Lydia Shenk 31 is doing tutoring on the campus. She expects to visit relatives in Virginia after the close of the Summer Session.

Miss Mary Royer 30 is at home in Orrville, Ohio, busy at work on the Primary Sunday School Quarterly and related materials.

Mrs. H. S. Bender (Elizabeth Horsch 18) is teaching German part time in the Summer Session.

Dr. M. C. Lehman 04 is teaching courses in philosophy and psychology in the Summer Session.

Mrs. McFarland is spending the summer at her home in Goshen.

Miss LaVerne Yoder 34 is spending the summer in the East, vacationing in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New England.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mininger 35 (Mary Erb Mininger x35), and family, spent the summer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Erb, of Wellman, Iowa, at Kansas City, Missouri, and at La Junta, Colorado. They expect to move to Goshen about August 1.

Miss Stella Kauffman 34 is spending the summer in the College library doing the thousand and one things that need doing there and working on plans for a new library building.

Mr. John E. Coffman 33 34 is studying library science in the library school of the University of Michigan.

Professor B. Frank Hartzler is teaching music in the Summer Session. He also has a number of private students in voice.

Lois Winey 36, assistant to the Business Manager, is doing full-time work in the College business office this summer. Miss Winey will continue her work next year as assistant business manager and will teach elementary shorthand in the College department of commerce.

Retha Hostetler 36, assistant to the dean and the registrar during the last school year, is taking courses in the commercial branches at Ball Teachers College in Muncie, Indiana, this summer. These courses will qualify her for the Indiana state high school license in commerce. Miss Hostetler is already licensed to teach English and history and social science in Indiana high schools. She plans to continue her work in the administrative offices next year and to teach typewriting in the College department of commerce. She spent the week-end of July 4 with her parents in Goshen.

Mr. Tilman Smith 28 (M.A., State University of Iowa, 32) is a member of the faculty of the Summer Session, teaching courses in American government, American history and Economic history of Europe. Mr. and Mrs. Smith (Luella Schertz x30) and little daughter, Carolyn Rae, occupy the Harry Hartzler apartments on South Eighth Street. Mr. Smith is superintendent of the Roanoke, Illinois, schools. In the summer of 1933 he was at Harvard University; summer of 1934 at U. of Chicago; and summer of 1936 at Illinois University.

Mr. Ralph Beechy 32 33 (M.A., Ohio State University, 1936) is teaching courses in the Summer Session as a member of the Summer Faculty. His offering includes Children's Literature, Tests and measurements, Teaching of geography and history, and Reading and phonics. Mr. Beechy is superintendent of the Berlin, Ohio, schools.

Dr. M. C. Lehman 04 14, president of the Goshen College Alumni Association, gave an address on "Missionary Methods," at the Yellow Creek Mennonite Church, on Sunday evening, May 30. He attended the annual meeting of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities at West Liberty, Ohio, June 10-15, where he was elected to membership on the Missions Committee, Constitution Revision Committee, and Mission Study Course Committee. He had charge of the morning service at the Nappanee North Mennonite Church on Sunday July 11, in the absence of the pastor, Homer North. Dr. and Mrs. Lehman (Lydia Liechty 05) will spend August 7 to September 4 in the Oak Grove Mennonite community near Smithville, Ohio, in the absence of the pastor, Bishop J. S. Gerig. Mr. and Mrs. Lehman spoke at an all day missionary conference at the Bethany Mennonite Church near Elida, Ohio, on Sunday, July 18.

THE SUMMER BIBLE SCHOOL

The College congregation conducted a Summer Bible School for the children of the College community and Parkside, June 9-25. Mrs. Glen R. Miller was director. Assistants and teachers were: Mrs. S. W. Witmer (Sana Troyer 12 14), leader of Kindergarten-Primary assembly; Miss Viola Good 38, leader of Junior-Intermediate assembly; Mrs. Timothy Brenneman and Verna Oyer, Kindergarten I and II; Harriet Lapp 37, Primary I; Mrs. Oswin Gerber, Primary II; Ruth Duerksen 39, Primary III; Dorothy Zook 38, Junior I; Miss Lydia Shenk 31, Junior II; Professor B. F. Hartzler, Junior III; Mrs. Tilman Smith (Luella Schertz x30), Intermediate.

The school closed on June 25 with a well-rendered public program of Bible story and song by the children.

CENTENNIAL REUNION

A considerable number of Goshen College Alumni will be interested in the announcement of the centennial reunion of descendants of former members of the Buffalo Valley Amish congregation in Union County, Pa. The reunion will be held at the Salem Church west of Lewisburg, Pa., on July 31, 1937. Address inquiries to J. Smith Riehl, Lewisburg, Pa. Anyone desiring a history of the Amish settlement in Union County may secure a copy, postpaid, by writing to Dr. Edward Yoder, Goshen College, Goshen, Indiana, and enclosing eighty cents.

NORTH GOSHEN SUMMER BIBLE SCHOOL

John Duerksen 37 was director of the Summer Bible School conducted in the recently dedicated North Goshen Mennonite Church during July. The teachers were Miss Lydia Shenk 31, Ruth King 39, Kathryn Miller 37, Mrs. Oswin Gerber, Florence Troyer, of Kokomo, Lois Gunden 36, Dorothy Zook 38, and Genevieve Yoder 39. Attendance and interest were excellent.

DEDICATION OF THE NORTH GOSHEN MENNONITE CHURCH

After months of patient waiting the workers in the North Goshen Sunday School at last have a pleasant, regularly appointed house of worship. On Sunday, May 30 the new church was dedicated. Bishop Edwin J. Yoder x09, president of the Indiana-Michigan District Mission Board, preached the sermon. Timothy Brenneman 37, formerly of Elida, Ohio, is superintendent of the Sunday school.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S INSTITUTE JUNE 30—JULY 4

The annual young people's institute was held this year in June instead of August because General Conference will take place in August and will take most of the speakers. This accounts in part for the lower enrollment, because the season was exceptionally busy at institute time. Opportunities for employment are generally much better than a few years ago. This also affected the attendance. However, regardless of the smaller group there was no less interest than in other years. Both leaders and students expressed deep appreciation for the value of the work done. Fifty students were enrolled.

Staff members from a distance were Bishop C. F. Derstine, Kitchener, Ontario, pastor of First Mennonite Church; Elvin Snyder, Markham, Ontario, missionary on furlough from South America; Milo Kauffman, Hesston, Kansas, president of Hesston College; Warren Long, Peoria, Illinois, pastor Peoria Mennonite Church. Staff members within the Indiana-Michigan district were Dr. H. S. Bender, Goshen, dean of Goshen College; Homer North, Nappanee, pastor Nappanee North Mennonite Church; Virgil Weaver, Goshen, pastor Yellow Creek Mennonite Church; Sherman Maust, Pigeon, Michigan, associate pastor Pigeon Mennonite Church; Dr. Glen R. Miller, Goshen, professor of physical science in Goshen College; Ruth Buzzard, Elkhart, grade school teacher in Elkhart County. I. E. Burkhart was director.

A PEACE TESTIMONY

Readers of the NEWS-LETTER have no doubt heard of some of the conjoint activities of the Historic Peace Churches of the United States. The churches engaged in this special activity are the Society of Friends, the Church of the Brethren, and the Mennonites. Interested persons from these groups conduct meetings that are informal and unofficial, held for the discussion of peace and nonresistance, and for finding ways of giving a Scriptural peace witness to Christendom and to the world. Those who gather for these meetings are not official representatives from their respective groups. They are interested persons out of these churches who are sincerely seeking ways and means to present the peace teachings of the Scriptures on peace and nonresistance effectively in the world today.

Out of these discussion meetings arose the idea of bringing before the highest official of our national government a statement of the position of the historic peace churches on war and peace. So on February 12 of this year seven men, representatives from the three groups, had the privilege of a thirty-minute interview with President Franklin D. Roosevelt at the White House. The men were: of the Society of Friends, Rufus M. Jones, Alvin T. Coate, Patrick M. Malin; of the Church of the Brethren, Rufus D. Bowman, Paul H. Bowman; of the Mennonites, A. J. Neuenschwander, C. L. Graber. The representatives from each group prepared their own separate written statement of brief length in advance of the time of the interview. These statements were read during the interview and copies left with the Executive with request that they might be made part of the official records of state. The delegation was received cordially and informally by the President.

The two representatives from the Mennonites were appointed by the Mennonite Central Committee, the organization through which the several branches have long worked together in immigration and relief projects. The written statement which they made to the president in the interview was in full as follows:

His Excellency
The Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt
The President of the United States of America
Washington, D. C.
Dear Mr. President:

As representatives of the Mennonite Church, one of the churches historically known as opposed to war and in favor of peace for the sake of Christ, a position held for four hundred years, we welcome the opportunity to address you on the matter of peace and nonresistance, particularly because of your generally recognized favorable attitude on this momentous question.

Your recent utterances at Buenos Aires, as well as your other declarations on this subject, we trust will be epochal in helping to usher in a new era of good will among nations and to replace the now prevailing attitude of mutual fear, suspicion, and in some cases, even hatred.

We wish to assert again our patriotism and wholehearted loyalty to our country, even now as we appear before you to state our inability, on the grounds of our conscience and religious convictions, to participate in war or military service of any type. As a matter of record now, we humbly state to our Government that, before God and our conscience, we cannot assume responsibilities or services, the purpose and end of which is the destruction of human life.

In the attached manuscript we present for your consideration a statement of the principles of the Mennonite Church, bearing on the matter of war and military service.

We thank you most sincerely for this privilege of expressing our convictions before you as President of the United States of America, and wish to assure our Government once more of our loyalty to our country, and our cheerful willingness to serve it in any capacity, the purpose of which is the protection of life.

Our age long opposition to war is indicated by the fact that many of the Mennonites who first came to this country did so because of military conscription abroad. During and since the World War, in the emergency relief work, we have assisted in the migration of many thousands of people to the United States, Canada, Paraguay, and Brazil, from countries where political, religious or military persecution exists today. We are always willing to help in the common good and welfare of those who are in distress or need.

Very respectively yours,
A. J. Neuenschwander
C. L. Graber
Mennonite Representatives

This unusual interview was discussed by Walter W. Van Kirk in his broadcast of "Religion In the News" on March 6. Part of his remarks were as follows:

"Seven gentlemen walked up to the front door of the White House the other day and pushed the bell. The door was opened. These seven men walked in and presently they found themselves talking with the President of the United States. There were no press reports, no ballyhoo, no flashlights . . . .

"These seven gentlemen represented the Historic Peace Churches of the United States, the Society of Friends, the Church of the Brethren, and the Mennonites. In a quiet manner and without the use of superlatives or bombast, these churchmen told the President that the historic peace churches, in keeping with their position for the past 250 to 400 years, could not participate in another war. It doesn't take such imagination to reconstruct this White House scene. The President in the course of a week, talks to a lot of people. Not infrequently he talks to the officers of the army and navy, and on these occasions there is to be sure, a lot of give and take about guns, battleships, army posts and military airplanes.

"But this was an interview of a different kind. These gentlemen were not adorned with gold braid. By their sides no swords were dangling. The seven gentlemen were men of peace. And this is what the spokesman of the Mennonites said to the President: 'We wish,' he said, 'to assert again our patriotism and wholehearted loyalty to our country, even now as we appear before you to state our inability, on the grounds of our conscience and religious convictions, to participate in war or military service of any type. As a matter of record now, we humbly state to our Government that, before God and our conscience, we cannot assume responsibilities or services, the purpose and end of which is the destruction of human life.' . . .

"No one, we think, could possibly question either the sincerity or the patriotism of these peace-loving people. We don't know what the President said to these representatives of the Historic Peace Churches, but our guess is that he will not soon forget the occasion when seven men stood before him to ask nothing for themselves, but only that they and their comrades in the faith might be permitted, in times of peace and in times of war, to preach and to practice their Gospel of reconciliation and good-will."

Professor H. L. Burkholder of Shippensburg, Pa., who served on the Goshen College faculty during a recent summer, expects to sail for Europe at the close of the summer session to study the working of the League of Nations.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hostetler 30 (Velma Lapp 31) of Flandreau, South Dakota, attended the Mission Board Meeting at West Liberty, Ohio, in June. After the meeting they motored to the East and visited classmates and friends in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York. At one point seven members of the class of 1930 met for a brief reunion. The class of 1930 is keeping up its class loyalties and spirit to a remarkable degree. The 1930 class letter not only makes regular rounds but each round finds the letter speeding up and making its circle in a shorter time.

Goshen College officials and alumni took an active part in the program and activities of the annual meeting of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities held at the South Union Church near West Liberty, Ohio, June 13-15. The following officers were elected: president, J. N. Kaufman 17, of Peoria, Illinois; vice-president, Bishop Edwin J. Yoder x08, of Topeka, Indiana, who is custodian of the Goshen College Endowment Fund; secretary, Bishop Sanford C. Yoder, President of Goshen College; treasurer, Bishop D. D. Miller, of Elkhart, Indiana, bishop in charge of the College congregation; and fifth member of the executive committee, J. D. Mininger, of Kansas City, husband of Hettie Kulp 00.

A high point of the meeting was the consecration and appointment of thirteen missionaries to the foreign field. Bishop and Mrs. T. K. Hershey 10 who spent the past year organizing mission work among the Spanish-speaking Mexicans in Texas will return to South America. So will Mr. and Mrs. Elvin V. Snyder 27 (Mary Fretz x31) who have been studying in Toronto during their furlough and visiting extensively among the churches. Selena Gamber 33, whose return to South America has been delayed because her services were needed as superintendent and instructor of nurses at the training school for nurses at the Mennonite Hospital and Sanatorium at La Junta, will return to South America. Mr. and Mrs. William Hallman 25 29 (Beatrice Hershey 25 29) will go to South America for their first term of service.

Marianna Reiff 36, of Elkhart, Indiana, who taught a rural school near Thurman, Colorado, last year will teach in the Concord township schools, Elkhart county, next year.

A WORD OF GREETING

Students and faculty of the College were pleased to receive the following word of greeting from alumni who are enrolled at the University of Michigan:

University of Michigan
Ann Arbor
July 7, 1937

We, a group of friends of Goshen College at the University of Michigan, have gathered here tonight in the name of Goshen College in order that we might manifest our appreciation of the institution which is so bravely upholding the highest standards of a liberal education and is serving its constituency with so much loyalty and efficiency.

We wish to greet you, faculty and student body. May Goshen live and prosper and may its healthful influence extend to the ends of the earth.

Yours in the name of all that is true, noble, and good.

THE ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER

JOHN UMBLE, '01.....Editor

AS ONE ALUMNUS TO ANOTHER

Orie O. Miller '15, Chairman of the Administrative Committee of Goshen College

Two of us Goshen College Alumni have just spent the greater part of a day in train travel together. Naturally a good bit of the conversation had to do with our Alma Mater—her past, the present, and dreaming of the future, and especially of the marked growth and progress during the past five years.

The Registrar reports a present enrollment of over 300—the first time in Goshen's history that this figure has been passed in any one semester. Dormitory and dining hall facilities are being used to the full. Financially there has been similar healthy progress. The Institution closed on Sept. 1, 1937, its fourth consecutive fiscal year without any operating deficit. Consistent progress has also been reported from year to year in debt reduction and in additions to endowments. As measured by the increase of faculty members with advance degrees or by the recognition given to Goshen's work by universities to which her students have gone for advanced training we note similar progress educationally. In all this we Alumni rejoice. It indicates that Goshen is building on a permanent and lasting basis.

Another development in the building of Goshen College for which many of us Alumni are especially thankful is the happier relationship there has come to be between the Institution and the Church—this based on mutual confidence and trust between their leaders. It has come to be accepted as a matter of course that the primary aims of the school are also those of the Church and that those from the Church who serve at Goshen College are loyal to the Institution as they are loyal to the Church and to the principles and ideals for which the Church stands.

We believe that every Alumnus is interested and concerned that this happy relationship continue and that it be still further strengthened. Goshen can give her most effective service only in the atmosphere that results from full confidence in her program, her leadership, and in all who have to do with directing and maintaining her course, by the leadership in the Church which founded her and to whom she looks for her major support. The maintenance of this confidence and trust is essential to Goshen's permanence and sound growth and efficient service in the future. On the other hand it is also assumed as a matter of course that the church leadership shares fully with those directly in charge, the concern that Goshen's scholastic standards be raised and strengthened as rapidly as possible—with a goal above rather than below those set by accrediting agencies. From standards striven for in other departments of the program of the church, we know full well the economic standards and policies for which Goshen's supporting constituency stands. of the

The first year of the Plan came to a close officially on October 1. The following list added to the one published in the July NEWS-LETTER gives the names of all those who have paid cash or made pledges during the past year. When the dozen or so of unpaid pledges are paid up, the total amount for the year will be over four thousand dollars. Well done, Alumni! This is a good showing for the first year. It means that approximately one-sixth of Goshen alumni have subscribed. This counts not only graduates, but also those who are alumni by virtue of having been students of Goshen College or the Elkhart Institute.

During the same period 870 Wooster College graduates paid approximately $17,000 to their Alma Mater. This is eighteen per cent of all graduates—not alumni in the broader sense. The Northwestern University Alumni Association boasts 5,205 contributing alumni an 86 per cent increase over the number contributing in 1935-36 and a 46 per cent increase in the total amount contributed. Northwestern numbers about 36,000 alumni. Their financial support of the program of their university now raises the Northwestern University Alumni Association to fifth place in amount of alumni funds. Only Harvard, Yale, Dartmouth and Cornell show greater contributions.

A comparison of these figures with what Goshen College alumni are doing shows that the latter have made a good beginning. The program was started late last year. The organization was built from the ground up. But now with a fine nucleus of regular contributors, an efficient organization of Regional Directors, and a trained office personnel, the work for the present year should go forward. Several hundred more alumni should contribute during the coming year and many of last year's contributors hope to increase the amount of their gifts.

The Alumni office hopes that all regular contributors will send their donations on or before December 1. If alumni respond without special solicitation, it will save postage and wear and tear on the Regional Director's automobile.

The following names complete the list of contributors for 1936-37:

A TRIBUTE TO MY ALMA MATER

(Some time ago a manuscript, written in long hand found its way from somewhere, to the editor's desk. Several of us have enjoyed it so much that we wish to pass it on.—Editor's note.)

From year to year I gain an increased realization of the debt of gratitude we owe for the privilege of Christian teaching and training at Goshen College. While at school we were often told that we would find the world to be out of sympathy with the ideals and standards taught there. I have indeed found this to be true. In my years of work in the city as a nurse and later in mission work I have found many who either scoff at or at least disregard the social and religious ideals upheld by Goshen College. During those years in a large city I have never ceased to be glad that I attended a small Christian college in a small town.

What then did the school contribute to my life and thru what means?

Come with me, away from the noisy, feverish crowds of the city to a beautiful little town on the Elkhart river. Come out to a college campus located at the edge of that town and overlooking the open countryside — God's garden. How quiet, restful, and refreshing to stroll from there along the dear familiar paths thru Goshen woods and along the race or river.

Who of us has not many happy memories associated with those haunts, memories of friendships fostered out there near to the heart of nature. We also found that somehow God was nearer to us out there. I felt that so much that I often took early morning walks thru the woods so that I might commune with Him undisturbed. Oh, it is so true that "the world is too much with us." It seems to me that the noise and hustle and self-sufficiency of a great city are in themselves conducive to doubt and unbelief—men have no time and no solitude to think of the Creator and in fact they seldom feel the need of Him when they are "busy about many things."

"Come with me out under the open sky and list to nature's teachings, while from all about, earth and her waters and the breadth of air comes a still voice."

Environment, then, has a great deal to do with student life—that and the influence of fellow students and professors. How much the campus means to us in its associations with friendships and student activities. Especially those of us who have spent spring and summer terms at Goshen have many happy memories of outdoor good times, of recreation and happy, earnest, worthwhile conversations on the college grounds supplementing the Christian fellowship we enjoyed in the prayer and Bible groups and devotional meetings.

In thinking of the Campus I cannot help but be reminded of the stalwart figure of our dear "Daddy Lehman" as he walked back and forth to college Halls or Dining room. And of the rare occasions when we were privileged to look through his telescope in front of the Ad building to see some particular wonder of the heavens. Yes, indeed, "the Heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament showeth His handiwork." Lincoln said:—"I can never behold the stars without feeling that I am looking in the face of God."

How inspiring to learn of the great wonders of the universe through a study of science. In that study and in those science courses at dear old Goshen College we were not led away from a faith in God and the Bible as unfortunately is so often the case in institutions all about the country. We were instructed by Christian professors who saw no conflict between the teaching of the Bible and true Science. How can we ever measure the influence of such professors in helping us to stand firmly on the rock of faith.

Those of us who have kept the faith or perhaps have regained it in stronger, fuller measure after a period of doubt and uncertainty, can never be grateful enough for the privilege of attending Goshen College and for our association there with Christian professors whose influence will go on throughout our lives.

Poem (adapted)

And the lasting ties of friendship,
Woven through with hopes and fears;
May they ne'er be broken asunder
In the distant coming years.

Tho our varied tasks have led us
Into paths none could foresee;
Alma Mater e'er we'll praise you
And we'll loyal be to thee.

The above paper and poem were read at the Chicago Goshen Alumni Meeting in April, 1935 by Mrs. Louis Lamse (Esther Schott 19).

ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER

The ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER of the Goshen College Alumni Association is printed six times a year as the January, March, May, July, September and November numbers of the Goshen College Bulletin.

EDITOR ..... John Umble, 01 and 05

Entered as second class matter November 17, 1924, at the postoffice at Goshen, Indiana, under Act of August 24, 1912. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Sec. 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized November 1, 1924.

EDITORIAL CHAT

The September NEWS-LETTER turns out to be an October NEWS-LETTER again this year the same as last. We hope that alumni are not too grievously disappointed at the delay.

Judging from comments which alumni make about the NEWS-LETTER, it is meeting with quite general approval. May we quote from several recent letters: "I want to congratulate you on the last issue of the Alumni NEWS-LETTER. It contained so much interesting news. To those who are so far away and get back only about every ten years it is our only way of keeping in touch with those we were acquainted with at school." Here is another: "I have a very small income at present. I may be able to send in more sometime later. I don't want to be classed with the 'ungrateful nine.' I do appreciate getting the NEWS-LETTER, and I want to do my part in helping to support it." And another: "I wish to join the group of alumni who are supporting the Alumni Association. I am ever grateful to the College for the education, inspiration and Christian fellowship that I received while attending school there."

The Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan has done excellent work for the first year. It is doubtful whether any one except a very few of the most optimistic officers of the Association expected such a hearty response to the appeal for donations to the Goshen College Accreditment Plan. Nearly 500 alumni responded to the appeal with cash or pledges during the ten months since the Alumni Division of the Plan was organized at the 1936 Home-Coming. The total cash paid in is about $3900. All but a very few pledges have been paid.

The November Bulletin of Goshen College will probably replace the November issue of the NEWS-LETTER. It will be of special interest to alumni because it will contain a student directory, announcement of new faculty members, plans for the new library building and other real news. The present student enrollment is over 300, the largest enrollment of students of college grade in the history of the institution.

AUGUST REUNION

The August Reunion was well attended. Bert Smith made the trip from Akron, Ohio as usual, but instead of bringing Mrs. Smith, he brought D. B. Zook 02, of 807 N. Howard St., Akron, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Grosh x15, also of Akron. This is the first reunion which either Mr. Zook or Mr. Grosh have attended since they left Goshen College. The secretary for the next year's reunion is Miss Anna Yoder of 1420 South Eighth St., Goshen.

MENNONITE CYCLOPEDIC DICTIONARY

The above is the title of a new book compiled and edited by Bishop Daniel Kauffman, of Scottdale, Pennsylvania. It is a compendium of doctrine, history, biography, literature, and activities and environments of the Mennonite Church which should find a ready sale among all classes of Mennonites. Much of the information contained in this book is not available elsewhere. In spite of its 443 double-column pages the book is not unwieldy. It is beautifully bound, stamped in gold and deserves a place in every good library. The retail price is two dollars, postpaid.

WEDDING BELLS

Howard E. Moore of R. R. 5, Lancaster, Pa., and Mrs. Virginia Kindig Groff were united in marriage on January 2. Mrs. Moore was the widow of the late Landis Groff, deceased in 1929. Mr. Moore is a feed salesman of the Co-operative Feed Association with membership of 72,000 members in the five New England states, Pennsylvania and Maryland. The Association has 28 warehouses. The one in Lancaster, Pa., is one of the largest. Mr. and Mrs. Moore made an extended trip through the western states during the summer, and stopped on the campus to visit with friends for a few days on their return trip.

The Rev. I. R. Detweiler of Bloomington, Ill., and Miss Esther Mishler were united in marriage in August. The Reverend Mr. Detweiler, former acting president of Goshen College, is now pastor of the First Mennonite Church in Normal, Ill.

Miss Lena Weaver, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. William B. Weaver (Fanny Stoltzfus x16) of Danvers, Ill., and Dale Davidson of Cleveland, Ohio, were married July 19 by the bride's father. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson are making their home in Cleveland.

On July 25 Betty Lee Weaver 37, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Calvin R. Weaver of South Main St., became the bride of William D. Leedy, son of DeFoe Leedy of South Seventh St. The Rev. S. M. Whetstone of the First Brethren Church of Goshen officiated. Mr. Leedy is assistant manager of the Miller Jones Shoe Store of Goshen.

On July 31 at Erlanger, Kentucky, Harold Zook x38, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Zook (Mary Krabill x07) and Rose Mitchel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weatherby, were united in marriage. Mr. Zook is employed at the International Harvester Co., in Springfield, Ohio.

On August 1, Elda May Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Norman Long became the bride of Harold Rufus Bachman, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Bachman of Morton, Ill. The ceremony was performed by Leland Bachman 39, brother of the groom, at the Science Ridge Church near Sterling, Ill. At the same time and place the bride's sister Hazel was united in marriage to Truman Lapp, D. G. Lapp, father of the groom, officiating. Mr. Bachman is employed as a shoe salesman in one of the leading retail stores in Sterling and Mrs. Bachman will continue her work as a rural school teacher near Sterling.

Clifford P. Martin 27, treasurer of the Goshen College Alumni Association and Erma Ferne Schertz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Schertz of Metamora, Ill., were united in marriage on September 28, J. N. Kaufman 17, pastor of the Pleasant Hill Mennonite Church officiating. Mrs. Martin has taught in the public schools of Woodford County, Illinois, since her graduation from Goshen College. Mr. Martin, eldest son of Mrs. Ada Martin of South Eighth St., Goshen, has been connected with the First Old State Bank at Elkhart, Ind., since his graduation from Goshen College. They spent their honeymoon in the Black Hills of South Dakota. They are at home at 1205 Prairie St., Elkhart, Ind., and are regular attendants at Sunday services at the College. Mr. Martin is one of the trustees of the College congregation and a member of the Church Council.

Walter R. Parsons x38, son of Mrs. Eva Parsons of 707 South Main St., and Ray Parsons of South Fifth St., and Merle Beatrice Branson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Branson of 207 Williamson St., were united in marriage at the Church of the Brethren on September 5, the Reverend T. E. George officiating. Mr. Parsons is employed at the Goshen Milk Condensing Company.

Burtron Zook, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Zook 02 (Lena Landis 03) was united in marriage to Margaret Mary Strathern, of Fostoria, Ohio, on September 11. They will reside in Fostoria where Mr. Zook has a business position.

On October 2, Albert Erickson 37, of Washington, D. C., and Lavina Platt, also of Washington, were united in marriage. Their marriage climaxed a romance that had started when the groom and bride were in the Moose Orphanage at Mooseheart, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Erickson are at home in Washington, D. C., where the former is employed by the People's Insurance Company.

Alvin Blough 38 and Gertrude De Boer 38, daughter of Mrs. Samuel De Boer (Seabie Brunsma x14), of Wassaic, New York, surprised their friends by returning to the campus as Mr. and Mrs. Blough in September. They reside in the Harry Hartzler apartments at 1422 South Eighth Street.

Hartzler (Minnie Hauder x09) of Harrisonville, Mo.

The aged mother of Professor A. S. Ebersole, of 30 Ohio Ave., Tiffin, Ohio, passed away in September. The editor regrets that he does not have biographical data for a complete notice.

PERSONAL

President Sanford Calvin Yoder spent the summer between the office and work in the field. During July he visited the Illinois churches in the interest of the college. Later he made a trip to Oklahoma in connection with the farm owned by the Mission Board. After the summer school convocation at the college he accompanied Mrs. Yoder and their daughters Anna Marguerite and LaVerne to western Nebraska and Wyoming, where they visited President Yoder's mother and other relatives. From Cheyenne he took the train for Oregon where he assisted in the Young People's Institute at Hubbard and attended General Conference at Turner. Mrs. Yoder and the daughters returned home from Cheyenne by way of Denver and La Junta, Colorado. Recently President Yoder conducted a series of evangelistic meetings at Hopedale, Illinois.

Dean and Mrs. H. S. Bender spent three weeks on a trip to the Pacific Coast the latter part of August, attending General Conference in Oregon and spending some time in visiting friends and relatives in California. They also stopped in Yosemite, General Grant, and Sequoia National Parks, and Lake Tahoe in Nevada. Dean Bender was a member of the staff of the Pacific Coast Young People's Institute at Hubbard, Oregon, and gave an address on the Tuesday evening program of General Conference. He has given several addresses to local organizations in Elkhart County on the theme "How can America keep out of the next World War." He spent the week-end from Thursday to Monday, October 7 to 11 at Newton and Hesston, Kansas, where he attended a meeting of the Mennonite Central Committee for Relief and spoke at the Sunday services at Hesston College Church. He also visited Bethel College making a study with Dean P. S. Goertz of certain aspects of the Bethel College program. With Professor Warkentin who is in charge of the Mennonite Historical Library at Bethel College, he worked out a common classification system for Mennonite historical material.

Eads x38, son of Mrs. Effie Eads of Elkhart, has received word that his application for admission to the bar recently submitted has been received and filed, and that he will be called for examination in a few months. He plans to practice law with an Elkhart attorney. Mr. Eads is employed by the Schult Trailer Company in Elkhart.

Fay Grassmyer 21 of Greenwood, Del., and Miss Mary Ann Sprunger of Berne, Indiana, were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sprunger 22 (Cordelia Riesen 21) of South Seventh St. for several days during the latter part of July.

William E. Hallman 29, newly appointed missionary of South America, was ordained to the ministry in the Sharon congregation near Guernsey, Sask., his former home, on Sunday, September 12. Bishops Moses Schmitt and E. S. Hallman were in charge of the services.

Professor B. F. Hartzler's Goshen Choral Society resumed its regular rehearsals on October 1. The organization will study Handel's "Messiah" and Bach's Christmas Oratorio for the coming Christmas season.

In July and August, Professor Noble Kreider, accompanied by Misses Beulah Kreider and Bernice Wood visited in Mexico City, Mexico.

Dr. and Mrs. I. C. Keller and children, of California, Pa., spent part of the summer vacation visiting Mrs. Keller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Piatt of South Fifth St. On their way home they made a trip through Southern Indiana and Kentucky, visiting Mammoth Cave and other points of interest.

Rev. George Phillips 13, pastor of the Brethren Church in Elkhart, was elected president of the annual Phillips reunion held near Goshen in August.

First Lieutenant James W. Kesler, son of Dr. and Mrs. Warren Kesler of South Seventh street, is convalescing in a hospital at Lewistown, Idaho, following an appendicitis operation he underwent ten days ago. Lieut. Kesler is stationed at a CCC camp at Genesee, Idaho.

On July 24, Mrs. Fred Kaiser (Janet Cheer 20) of Chicago, and Mrs. Royce Fuller of Milford visited in Goshen.

Atlee Beechy 35, resigned his position as teacher of a rural school near Berlin, Ohio to teach in the elementary schools of Columbus, Ohio, under the superintendency of W. Wilbur Miller 22, who as assistant superintendent of the Columbus schools, is supervisor of all the elementary teachers in Columbus. Mr. Beechy's address is 1866 North High Street, Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Jay Hostetler and their three children sailed from Los Angeles, California for India on September 6. During their residence in Goshen, they resided on Burdick Street.

Professor and Mrs. I. E. Burkhart 26 (Gladys Loucks 25) and their children, Charles, Charlotte, and Joyce, attended the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Professor Burkhart's parents at Kitchener, Ontario, in September.

Mary Rieth 33 of South Fifth St., Goshen, has entered the University of Chicago to do graduate work.

U. Grant Weaver has sold his property on South Eighth St., Goshen, formerly owned by President N. E. Byers to Sam J. Naugle of east of Goshen for $3500.00. Until next spring Professor and Mrs. Walter E. Yoder and family will continue to occupy the house.

Paul Kaufman 37, is engaged in commercial portrait photography for the Prince Studio, whose home office is at St. Mary's, Ohio. Mr. Kaufman will be traveling salesman for the first two months and will then be employed in the studios.

At the 120th Quarterly Mission Meeting of Logan and Champaign Counties, held at the Oak Grove Church on October 3, Olive Yoder 36, had charge of the meeting of primary and junior children. Dwight Yoder 37 was chorister and S. C. Plank x15 was secretary-treasurer.

Francis Smucker 37 of Smithville, Ohio is teaching the sixth grade in the Creston, Ohio, schools.

Arlene Yoder 31 continues her work as teacher in the high school at Hanover near Newark, Ohio.

The editor had the pleasure of meeting C. H. Warfel x12 of R. R. 1, Fentress, Va., at the centennial reunion of descendants of the founders of the Buffalo Valley Amish congregation near Lewisburg, Pa., in July. Mrs. Plessa Byler (Elsie Yoder x19) of Reedsville, Pa., and her husband were also present at the meeting.

Paul Swope has resigned his position as junior high school instructor at North Lima, Ohio, to accept a secretarial position with the General Fireproofing Company of Youngstown, Ohio. Mr. Swope's brother Emmanuel, husband of Nola Leinbach x31, is also employed by General Fireproofing Company.

Leon Glick 35 of Sugarcreek, Ohio, has resigned his teaching position in the Knob school of Clark Township, Holmes County, Ohio, to accept a position with the Sterling Baking Company. He enjoys his work and finds it more remunerative than teaching.

Elizabeth Royer 37, of 127 Linden Ave., Orrville, Ohio, has been employed to teach the first and second grades at Marshallville, Ohio, six miles from her home.

Katherine Royer x34 is employed to teach the third grade in the Orrville schools. I. W. Royer 00 and his daughter, Miss Mary Royer 30 of the College faculty, attended General Conference in Oregon.

The Alumni Office recently learned of the address of Mrs. Timothy E. Cass of 224 Seebirt Place, South Bend, Ind. Mrs. Cass was Henrietta Belt of Brimfield, Ind., when she attended Goshen College in 1908.

Bishop George J. Lapp wrote interestingly last April of the homesteading of Mangal Tarai (Happy Valley). He says in part: "It is a new project for settling healthy children and arresting cases of lepers on the land. Government has very kindly sanctioned the converting of 6,288 acres of land into an estate for the purpose and have furnished the funds for water supply, for clearing for cultivation, and for necessary construction of buildings for medical dispensary and school purposes when they are needed. One water reservoir is finished, another is under construction, two wells will soon be done, a temporary house for ourselves will soon be done, huts are going up on village plots built by the settlers themselves, they have taken easy loans for purchasing farm animals and implements and by the beginning of this coming rainy season (middle of June) they will be ready to go right on with their home and farm making. The land is freehold, carved out of the forest in a beautiful valley, no tax is to be levied for three years, up to the tenth only half tax will be levied and after that the regular tax will be taken from the farmers who by then will be well on their own feet. As Manager of the Estate I find it a great pleasure to work with the colonists and with Government and also with the Mission to Lepers and our own Mission as we together work out the plans for the development of the project. As soon as we can be relieved from the work of the Shantipur Leper Home, my wife and I will move to the estate and stay by it for the next couple years. It will keep us in India over time but so long as we are well we are willing to make the sacrifice for the work's sake. All the colonists so far are Christians but a few Hindus have also applied and can be admitted on a noncommunal basis."

Sadie Hartzler 26, instructor at Eastern Mennonite School, Harrisonburg, Va., visited in the home of her mother in Wayne County, Ohio, during the summer.

His wife before her marriage was Ruth Miller, a daughter of Eli Miller of Portage county, Ohio. They are the parents of three children: two girls and one boy.

Mrs. Ruth Lininger Dobson x33 has stirred up something of a hornet's nest with her novel about the Amish living near Middlebury, Indiana. A recent Associated Press dispatch said, among other things: "The northern Indiana Amish, a sect of thrifty farm folk who eschew modern inventions and teach their children to stay with the land, are nettled by Ruth Lininger Dobson's recent novel, Straw in the Wind.

"Mrs. Dobson, a native of Latrobe, Pa., lived as a girl for five years in the Middlebury community where dwell several hundred Amish who adhere closely to the sect's conscientious objection to military service or participation in civil affairs, preservation of ancient customs and avoidance of all things worldly, including the automobile, motion pictures and radio.

"The author attributed to her leading character an overwhelming urge for the acquisition of farm land, resentment against a neighbor who refused to sell a tract, and a domineering attitude toward his wife and eight children, especially a son and daughter who rebelled against the strict Amish customs.

"The novel provoked several letters to the Middlebury Independent, a weekly newspaper, one of which, from a highly respected Amish resident, read in part: 'The present generation has never known or seen such a bishop or church leader as described by Mrs. Dobson. We have had the privilege of being more or less intimately acquainted with nearly all Amish church leaders in the United States during the last several decades but know none who would in any way fit the description of this avaricious potentate.'"

That the novel is being read and that Mrs. Dobson's interpretation is accepted as correct seems to be attested by the following paragraph in one of O. O. McIntyre's recent daily columns: "Ruth Lininger Dobson won the Avery Hopwood award with her "Straw in the Wind," which I have just got around to reading. It is the story of the fast vanishing hook and eye Amish folk of Indiana, a religious sect comparable somewhat to the Pennsylvania Dutch. To those who want to get away from the sophisticated, analytical type of stories and dwell for an evening in an atmosphere of fried ham, mush and maple syrup and appealing simplicities, I commend it." Such expressions as "fast vanishing" show how little even the well-informed American knows about the Amish. Starting with a few score families about one hundred years ago, the Amish east of Goshen now number twenty-two congregations of over one hundred members each. There is probably an equal number of children.

Harve Driver 30, Regional Director for Colorado, is teaching three classes in U. S. history, is debate coach, and is sponsor of a peace club of one hundred members. His biggest and most pleasurable job is being counsellor to three hundred and one boys in the high school. The address of Mr. and Mrs. Driver is 819 San Juan, La Junta, Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sudermann, 32, (Hilda Byler, 29) are operating a rooming house on the campus of the University of Michigan. Mr. Sudermann has an assistantship in German.

Present and former members of the College quartette have a circle letter that helps to keep their musical interests alive. Roy Umble, 35, former first tenor, is president of the LaSalle Choir in South Bend, an a cappella organization of over fifty members. Raymond Troyer, 36, former baritone, is teaching music at the Attica high school near Tiffin, Ohio, and finds time to take evening lessons on the clarinet and violin at Heidelberg College. William Friesen, 37, bass for four years, has been formally inducted into the Westminster Choir at Princeton, New Jersey, with the robing ceremony. C. Richard Yoder, 37, second tenor for four years, is now a freshman in Ohio State Medical College at Columbus and is allowing his worries over buying a $150 microscope and paying $10.62 for a three-inch-thick anatomy text, to interfere slightly with his musical interests. Dwight Weldy, 37, first tenor for the past two years, is pedagoguing it over some forty rather trying young Americans chiefly of the hyphenated variety over in Cleveland township, but he finds time to come to the College one evening a week to sit in on Dr. M. C. Lehman's lectures on logic. Franklin Bishop, 40, of Doylestown, Pennsylvania, baritone and last year's freshman member of the quartette, has clubbed with Maurice Burkholder 39, of Nampa, Idaho, first tenor of another very good quartette last year, to organize a new quartet. They have appeared in public with John Smucker, 40, second tenor and John Friesen, 38, bass. Their voices blend well and if they find time to practise, homecomers may hear them in November.

Flossie Lehman, 37, of North Lima, Ohio, received an eleventh hour appointment as teacher in Columbiana County, Ohio.

Harold Miller, 37, of Springs, Pennsylvania, was elected to teach a rural school near Pearl City, Illinois, a few days before the beginning of school.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Schrock x12, reside near Hunters Lake on rural route two out of Middlebury, Indiana. Their daughter, Marcella, graduated from the Middlebury, Indiana, High School with high honors in May.

Howard L. Schertz, 29, of New York City, paid a pleasant visit to his friends on the campus in August.

Lois Gunden, 36, rural school teacher near Chenoa, Illinois, and Regional Director for one of the Central Illinois areas, is the first to make the second payment on her pledge to the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan. The generous check was accompanied by a warm little note of appreciation that cheered the heart.

In the report of the meeting of the Mennonite Publication Board held near Albany, Oregon, August 19 and 20, the names of the following alumni appear as participants: Bishop Edwin J. Yoder x08 of Topeka, Indiana; Jesse B. Martin x26, of Waterloo, Ontario; J. R. Shank x01, of Missouri; Bishop O. N. Johns x07, of Canton, Ohio; C. B. Shoemaker 12, an address, "The Future Financial Policy of the House"; Bishop A. J. Steiner 00, an address "The Why of the Mennonite Publishing House"; and I. W. Royer 00, of Orrville, Ohio. Bishop O. N. Johns was re-elected secretary of the Board and C. B. Shoemaker, secretary-treasurer of the House. Bishop Daniel Kauffman is chairman of the Publishing Committee and O. O. Miller, 15, of Akron, Pennsylvania, of the Auditing Committee. The Executive Committee appointed the following alumni to the Editorial Staff: Bishop Daniel Kauffman, editor of the Gospel Herald; H. Frank Reist, 04, of Falfurrias, Texas, contributing editor; John R. Shank x01, Young People's Meeting editor of the Christian Monitor; Ellrose D. Zook 33, editor of the Words of Cheer; Mrs. Lina Zook Ressler 01, Letter Department of the Words of Cheer; Dr. Edward Yoder, Advanced Lesson Quarterly; John R. Shank and Dr. Edward Yoder, Advanced Teachers Quarterly; Miss Mary Royer 30, Primary Lesson Quarterly and Primary Teachers Quarterly; and Mrs. Lina Zook Ressler, Lesson Cards.

Of the class of 1937, twenty-three graduates of the four year college course applied for school positions and all but one was successful. Of the thirty-seven two year elementary teachers all but three secured positions. This means that 93⅓ per cent of the graduating class were successful in securing positions—or to be more exact, that Dr. Silas Hertzler's wide-awake, unselfish efforts to secure positions for them lacked only 6⅔ per cent of being completely successful. Quite a record!

Ten alumni left the homeland in September and October to do missionary work in foreign parts. Bishop and Mrs. Tobias K. Hershey 10, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Hallman (Beatrice Hershey) and Miss Selena Gamber 33 sailed for the Argentine on October 23. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hallman graduated from the academy in 1925 and from the College in 1929. Dr. and Mrs. Jonathan Yoder 27, (Fyrnne Miller, 30) and Mr. and Mrs. S. Jay Hostetler 23, sailed from the Pacific Coast for India in September. Phebe Yoder 34, of La Junta, Colorado, sailed for Tanganyika Territory, East Africa, in October.

Dr. Glen R. Miller, head of the department of chemistry, is president of the St. Joseph Valley section of the American Chemical Society which meets monthly at Notre Dame to hear addresses by the leading authorities in the field of chemistry.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Whitaker (Ferne Zimmerman x36) of the Mennonite Mission at 2235 N. W. Savier Street, Portland, Oregon, conducted a camp for city children in a fir grove adjacent to the Zion Mennonite Church near Hubbard during the past summer. Between June 25 and August 5 four groups enjoyed a ten-day outing: first a group of girls, then during the next ten days a group of twelve boys, then ten junior girls and finally seven junior boys. The story is told in an interesting way on page 605 of the October 7 issue of the Gospel Herald. The entire October 7 issue is full of interesting and informing articles from the Indian, South American, and African stations.

Pay-as-you-go, avoid debts, maintain allowance standards adequate to unworried efficient service in living that is attuned to the Church's ideals of the plain, simple, nonconformed life, and some reserve provision for contingent emergencies; are primary points in this. Those of us who prize more than words can tell, what Goshen has meant to our own lives in vision, in happiness, and in equipment for life's tasks, and have shared the travail of the Institution thru her darker days: take courage from the present and thank God.

In an atmosphere such as seems to us now in the making we confidently look for a growing stream of Alumni from Goshen who go out set on fire by the life and influence at the College, who are mentally equipped and spiritually empowered for Christian statesmanship and service to Church and fellowman. For such a Goshen J. S. Coffman prayed at its founding, and for this multitudes have prayed since.

Goshen College

Entered as second class matter November 17, 1924, at the postoffice at Goshen, Indiana, under act of August 24, 1912. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Sec. 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized November 17, 1924.

ENROLLMENT STATISTICS

Another Increase for 1937-38

For the sixth successive year the enrollment of students at Goshen College has increased. The total enrollment of regular full-time college students for the first semester of 1937-38 is 270, which is 15 larger than the enrollment for the first semester of last year which was 255, an increase of six percent. For the first time the total enrollment of full-time and part-time students has passed the 300 mark. It now stands at 308, which represents an increase of 25 students over last year. An analysis of the enrollment by classes shows a slight increase of post graduates and seniors, an increase of twenty percent in the sophomore class, and a very slight decline in the junior and freshman classes. The present senior and sophomore classes are the largest in the history of the institution. The table of comparative enrollment for the past 7 years which is appended below reveals graphically the splendid progress which has been made in the Goshen College enrollment in recent years. The enrollment for the current year is seventy-eight percent higher than that of 1931-32.

Comparative Enrollment of Full-time Students

New Students

Approximately one-half of the 270 full-time students are new students enrolled at Goshen College for the first time. These are distributed among the classes as follows: Freshmen 115, Sophomores 7, Juniors, 4, Seniors 9, Post Graduates 2. This means that 137 new students are participating in the life and activities of the institution this year, and that 133 former students have returned to continue the traditions and spirit of the institution, and to assimilate the new students. The 118 freshmen come from 73 different high schools. The 22 upper classmen who matriculated at Goshen College this year for the first time have transferred from the following institutions: Sophomores, from Kitchener Collegiate Institute 1, from LaJunta Mennonite Hospital 1, from Bloomington Mennonite Hospital 1, from Machester College 1, from Indiana University 1, from Taylor University 1, from Stephens College 1; Juniors from Eastern Mennonite School 1, from Ashland College 1, from Urbana Junior College 1, from Messiah Bible College 1; Seniors, from Eastern Mennonite School 2, from Hesston College 1, from James Millikin University 1, from North Dakota State Teachers College 1, from University of Pittsburgh 1, from Colorado State Teachers College 1, from New Jersey State Normal 1, from University of Colorado 1; Post Graduates, from Eastern Mennonite School 1, from Columbia University 1.

Statistics of the freshman enrollment by states show that four states continue to contribute the bulk of the enrollment, Indiana 44, Ohio 26, Illinois 16, Pennsylvania 12. This year Iowa increased its contribution to 9. Freshmen come from a total of fourteen different states.

Mennonite Students

The increase in enrollment of Mennonite students has kept pace with the increase in general enrollment, and this year has the highest enrollment of full-time Mennonite College students in the history of Goshen College, a total of 190, with two others from Mennonite homes. In addition to this splendid total of students from the main body of Mennonites, 15 students are enrolled from other branches of Mennonites, making a total of 205 Mennonites against 65 non-Mennonites, or a percentage of more than 75 percent. The table given below shows the comparative enrollment of Mennonite students (main branch only) for the past six years by classes. It should be remembered that the statistics for the year 1937-38 are for the first semester only. The number of Mennonite students is certain to be increased by five or six when the second semester registration occurs.

*First semester only. Other year figures are for entire year.

A striking feature of the Mennonite enrollment for this year is the fact that every Mennonite Conference in North America is represented except one, the Alberta-Saskatchewan Conference, although Virginia is represented during the first semester by a part-time student only. Seven conferences are represented by ten or more students. The table below gives the total enrollment by conference districts (for full-time and part-time students).

Interesting Data About the Student Body

The registrar has prepared a number of interesting and valuable statistical tables concerning the student body, relating to enrollment by curriculums, enrollment by sex, enrollment by states, intended occupations, occupations of fathers, student aid including scholarships. These tables are given below in the order mentioned above. It may be interesting to note that the average age of the entire student body is 29.8 years. The average age by classes is as follows: freshman 19.4, sophomore 20.5, junior 22.3, senior 24.0, post graduate 29.9.
